NEW GOVERNOR ARRIVES IN OTTAWA

Italian Advance Not Opposed By Ethiopia Army

Emperor Haile Selassie's Forces Do Not Accept Area Between Adigrat-Aksum Line and Makale, North Ethiopia, as Battle-ground

Haile Selassie Says His Army Intact

By ANDREW BERDING
Associated Press Correspondent

On the March with the Italian Army in Ethiopia, 8:30 a.m., Nov. 4.—An Italian army column poured through Hauzien shortly after daybreak to-day and marched on toward Makale, thirty-eight miles due south.

Italian patrols had entered Hauzien yesterday, scouting the way in advance of the main body of infantry. Their drive forward was met with no resistance by the Ethiopians.

Native Eritrean troops under Gen. Alessandro Palmieri formed one column approaching Hauzien from the right (west); while blackshirted fascist militia under Gen. Ruggiero Santini made up the column which came in from the left (east).

Rising prices, however, offered some relief to several Washington potato growers. The potato belt of Kittitas County and the apple orchard regions of the Yakima and Wenatchee valleys, the latter with a million dollar loss, have been hard hit.

At Ellensburg dealers said they believed 1,000 acres of potatoes still in the ground have been lost. To-day they offered thirty and thirty-two cents a bushel.

The noon-day objective of General Santini's force was the highland commanding Maiasseti, eighteen miles southeast of Hauzien. Officers believed the objective would be taken on schedule.

Italian air squadrons machine gunned a series of several thousand Ethiopians around Makale.

The punishment inflicted on the Ethiopians by the military planes, flying ahead of the advancing ground forces, was delivered in reply to hot rifle fire from the enemy.

ANTI-BRITISH SCENES AT MILAN

Associated Press
Milan, Italy, Nov. 4.—Anti-British feeling flared anew here to-day as crowds of shouting students demonstrated before stores where British goods were on sale.

The show window of one establishment was shattered.

The proprietor of one store was compelled to draped the Italian tricolor over signs advertising British merchandise.

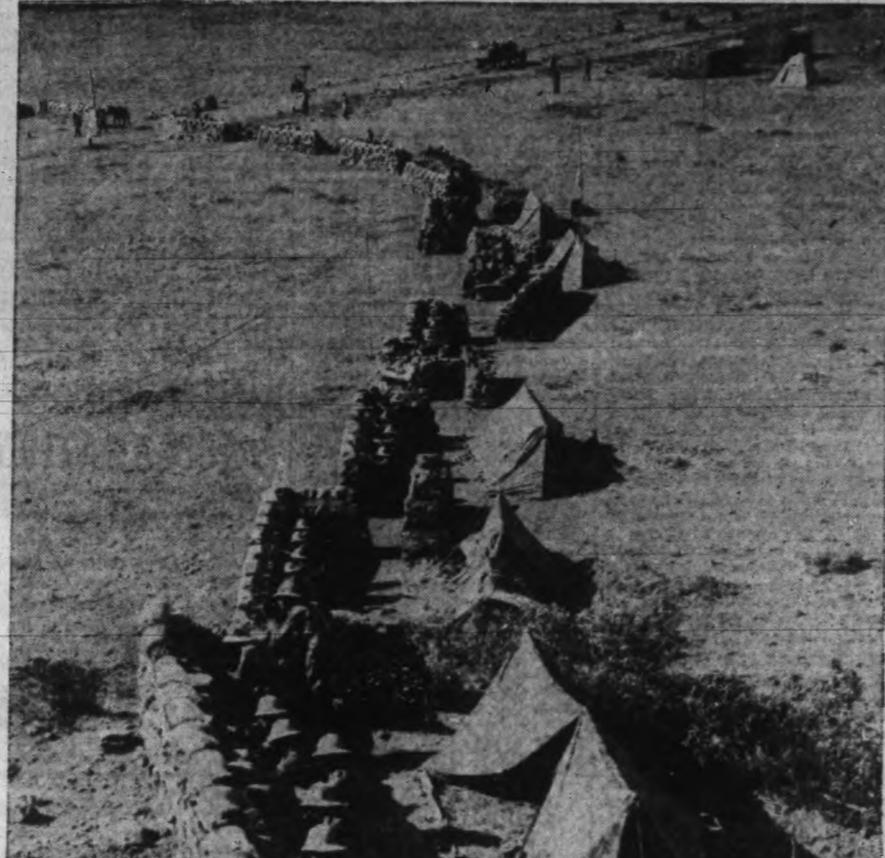

Associated Press
Rome, Nov. 4.—Demonstrations against Great Britain were resumed here to-day as Premier Mussolini promised Italy another victory to celebrate the seventh anniversary of the nation's triumphant armistice with the Austro-Hungarian Empire.

Bands of students paraded the streets shouting "Down with England" and striped British signs from buildings. Storekeepers hurriedly closed their windows.

The students made a second call on the Hotel Eden and took down the English announcements.

ON FIRING LINE WITH ITALIANS IN ETHIOPIA

The defences erected in the Adigrat region of northern Ethiopia are shown in this picture rushed to this column by Ray Rousseau, N.E.A. Service staff cameraman. The blackshirts prepared for counter attacks by building elaborately sandbagged breastworks, with their tents pitched nearby in the protected area.

Measures to Avoid Repetition of Labor Day Death Toll if Gale Now Approaching Southern Tip of United States Peninsula Proves Destructive

Associated Press

Miami, Fla., Nov. 4.—Relief workers hastened to-day the evacuation of the Florida Keys, where approximately 400 United States war veterans and others were killed in a hurricane on Labor Day, as a freak storm moved menacingly toward the coast between Miami and Palm Beach.

William H. Green, in charge of relief operations on the coral islands, sent trucks to take off 200 men at Snake Creek. From Lower Matecumbe, sixty-five other workers were making their way by boat to Snake Creek to board the waiting trucks. Refugees will be brought here.

POWER IN MIAMI FAIRS

Power failed in the Miami News building shortly before noon. A drenching rain was falling, whipped by gusty squalls, and at Fort Lauderdale, thirty miles to the north, there were sustained gusts as high as fifty miles an hour.

Hurricane warnings were flying around the extreme southern tip of the peninsula from Palm Beach to Naples on the west coast. Naples is about thirty miles south of Fort Myers.

SPECIAL TRAIN RULES ISSUED

New Government Regulations Designed to Protect Logging Workers

Special regulations designed mainly to protect logging workers going to and from work on logging trains were issued by Premier Pattullo as Minister of Railways.

They provide that all trains with cars carrying passengers or workmen shall be headed by the locomotive and no such car shall at any time be pushed ahead of the locomotive.

An exemption from this rule must be obtained from the minister in writing.

It is also set out that no train shall have any freight, merchandise, lumber or logging car in the rear of any car carrying passengers or workmen.

These rules, it was explained, were to prevent injury to workmen riding on logging trains in case of accident.

POWER IN ST. LOUIS

Three slight earth shocks last night and this morning, none of which were connected with last Friday's severe earthquake that was felt throughout the eastern half of North America.

W. W. Doxsee, assistant seismologist, said the shocks were received at 11:14 p.m., E.S.T., 5:30 a.m. and 9:08 a.m.

Mr. Doxsee said the character of the records indicated the tremors might be after-shocks of the Helena, Mont., quake which rocked parts of western Canada last week.

Three tremors of moderate intensity were recorded yesterday evening and this morning on the seismographs of the Meteorological Observatory on Gonzales Heights, according to F. Napier Denison, superintendent.

The first, at 8:05:30 o'clock yesterday evening, was estimated by Mr. Denison as having its centre 700 miles from this city.

The other two tremors came at 2:25:30 and 6:08:30 o'clock this morning. The distances were given as 1,080 and 1,400 miles respectively from Victoria.

AUTOS TAKE LARGE TOLL

Fourteen B.C. Deaths in September; Half as Many Died From T.B.

Automobile accidents took fourteen lives in British Columbia last month.

This was 28 per cent as many deaths as were attributable to cancer and half as many as were due to tuberculosis, according to the monthly bulletin of the vital statistics department.

The total deaths from all causes were 412, compared with 447 for the corresponding month of last year.

Births totaled 872 against 855 last year and marriages were 516 as compared with 454. Twenty divorces were granted.

In Victoria there were sixty-five births, thirty-six deaths and fifty-six marriages. Other island centres were: Duncan, ten births, two deaths and two marriages; Ladysmith, one birth and two marriages; Nanaimo, twenty-nine births, thirty deaths and twelve marriages; Port Alberni, nine births, three deaths and one marriage.

SHIP IN TROUBLE OFF FLORIDA COAST

Associated Press

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 4.—Coast guard divisional headquarters to-day received a wireless message saying the steamer Sieland was unable to manoeuvre in hurricane winds just off the Florida coast near Fort Lauderdale, and the master feared the vessel would be driven aground.

Entrance was also gained to these premises by "jimmying" a window.

recommendations of the United States commissioner of fisheries asking for an amendment to the treaty by which United States fishermen would be granted a larger percentage of the catch than Canadian fishermen, the letter said.

"Such equal division of the catch would seem to be entirely reasonable and just," the Secretary of State wrote.

"Moreover, it is the only practicable solution of the situation, and the only effective inducement that can be held out to Canada to co-operate in conserving the fishery in the interest of both governments."

The Washington State planning council has opposed the commissioner's recommendation.

Lord Tweedsmuir Given Welcome As He Takes Over Duties of High Post

THIEVES MAKE VALUABLE HAUL

Jewelry and Silverware Taken in Robberies of Fairfield Homes

Valuable jewelry and cutlery were stolen by thieves who broke into the home of Martin Cave, 305 Moss Street, on Saturday night, and ransacked the house, according to a city police report.

Mr. Cave returned to his home shortly after midnight, Saturday, and discovered a side window had been "jimmied" and a quantity of valuables taken.

Among the items listed missing were: A gold ring set with three rubies and three diamonds, one diamond, two three-piece silver tea sets, a case of cutlery, a silver sandwich tray, a jewel case, a gold necklace set with pearls and diamonds, a club bag, a lady's traveling case, four sets of earrings, a gold bracelet set with rubies and diamonds and a Rolla razer.

In the same district J. W. Givens, 1234 Fairfield Road, reported his house entered on the same night. A diamond ring, green pendant and a bracelet of brilliant were among the missing articles.

Entrance was also gained to these premises by "jimmying" a window.

MAY BE SENT TO WASHINGTON

New Governor-General Greeted By Premier King and Cabinet and Mr. Bennett

Hon. J. G. Gardiner Sworn Into Cabinet

Associated Press

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—Baron Tweedsmuir, new Governor-General of Canada, arrived here to-day with Lady Tweedsmuir and their youngest son, Hon. Alastair Buchan. They were greeted by high government officials and Mayor P. J. Nolan of Ottawa.

Prime Minister King and members of the cabinet and former Premier Bennett were at the station to greet Their Excellencies. Mr. Bennett was responsible for the selection of the baron as King George's representative in succession to the Earl of Bessborough.

Mayor Nolan read a speech of welcome and presented Lord Tweedsmuir with a gold key to the city. The Vice-regal party drove from the station and a nineteen-gun salute was fired by gunners on Parliament Hill.

As the train drew into the station Premier King walked along the concourse to greet the Governor-General. The party walked back along the platform past a guard of honor provided by the Governor-General's Foot Guards and a double line of militia of the Ottawa Cameron Highlanders. Lord Tweedsmuir will be honorary colonel of his unit of guards during his stay here.

Members of the diplomatic corps were among those in the welcoming party.

ABERHART GETS ACCLAMATION

Associated Press

Calgary, Nov. 4.—Premier William Aberhart was given an acclamation in the Okotoks-High River constituency to-day. When nominations for the November 24 by-election closed at 2 p.m. the returning officer reported no party had nominated a candidate to oppose the Premier.

Big Pulp Mill For Island Proposed

Associated Press

Victoria's copy of the agreement governing the expenditure of the province's $100,000 loan for the proposed works programme was received by the city to-day from the Deputy Minister of Finance. The document carried written approval for the different schemes listed.

The appropriate official of the Department of Public Works has been instructed to get in touch with you in order that he may exercise such supervision over the works as will enable him to certify the progress estimates for payment," the letter accompanying the document stated.

Those schemes on which immediate action will be taken were scheduled to be determined at the City Council and public works committee meetings this afternoon.

The city school board is expected to meet this evening at 5 o'clock to talk over plans for the Oaklands auditorium, one of the projects favored by the council for early work.

Loan Is Being Oversubscribed

Associated Press

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—Indications at noon were that the $75,000,000 Dominion Government loan, opened to-day, would be substantially oversubscribed, Bank of Canada officials stated.

The books were opened for subscriptions at 9 this morning and officials said both the four and nine-month and one-half maturities were proving popular.

The short-term bonds will bear interest coupons at 2 per cent, and the long-term at 3 per cent, and they will be priced to yield respectively 2.15 and 3.05 per cent. The proceeds of the loan will be used for general purposes.

No date has been fixed for the closing of subscription books.

Eight parcels sold for a total of $5,000, as Victoria's annual tax sale got under way this morning. It was announced by George Okell, city assessor-collector.

The barometer was falling and the wind rising at Miami.

GALE APPROACHING

The 11 a.m. hourly warning of the Jacksonville weather office said the hurricane was approaching the West Palm Beach-Miami area west-southwest at the rate of about ten miles an hour.

After passing near the Great Abaco Island in the Bahamas, the storm suddenly changed its course about midnight and headed menacingly toward Florida. No loss of life was reported from the islands.

HOUSES BOARDED UP

Residents of the southern tip of the state hurriedly began boarding up their homes and places of business.

High tides along the southeast

Florida coast were expected, the weather bureau said, with possibly hurricane winds and high water in the Lake Okeechobee section, where more than 2,000 persons lost their lives in 1928 in the high water.

Palm Beach, Fla., Nov. 4.—Radio Marine said to-day the freighter Florida was buffeted by high seas just off the coast and the captain had asked for a pilot to guide the ship into Lake Worth Harbor, but none was available.

The Mackay radio at Jupiter said the vessel apparently was riding the high waves without difficulty. No concern was felt.

ACCLAMATIONS IN BRITAIN

As Many Nominated For Commons, Thirty-seven Face No Opposition

Canadian Press

London, Nov. 4.—Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and thirty-six other members were returned by acclamation as nominations for the general election November 14 closed to-day.

Those returned unopposed included twenty-two Conservatives, twelve Labor, two Liberal-National, and one Independent.

Acclamations were:

Conservatives—Sir Vansittart Bowater and Sir Garret Anderson, City of London; the Marquis of Hartington, West Derbyshire; Major B. E. P. Leighton, Oswestry; Major Sir R. Glynn, Abingdon; Captain Malcolm Bullock, Abingdon, Lancashire; Major Sir Ronald Ross, London; William John Stewart, Belfast; Captain Herbert Dixon, Belfast East; Thomas Somerton, Belfast North; J. H. McKie-Galloway; Captain Harold Balfour, Isle of Thanet; A. S. Somerville, Windsor; Col. Thomas Sinclair, Belfast University; Sir S. Hugh O'Neill, and Josiah McConnell, Antrim; C. S. Taylor, Eastbourne; W. S. Morrison, Cirencester; R. H. Turton, Thirsk; Captain F. F. A. Helgers, Bury St. Edmunds; Col. G. L. Acland-Trotter, Tiverton.

Liberal-National—R. J. Russell, Eddisbury; Walter Bunciman, St. Ives.

Labour—Thom, Cape, Workington; G. H. Halland, W. G. Cave, Aberdare; William John Rhondda West; Sir William Jenkins, Neath; George Daggar, Aberdare; D. Davies, Pontypridd; Sir Charles Edwards, Bedwyr; David Williams, Swansea; E. J. Williams, Ogmore; Dr. J. H. Williams, Llanelli; J. J. Tinker, Leigh.

Independent—Col. Josiah Wedgwood, Newcastle-under-Lyme.

Premier King read his address of welcome.

"It is my proud privilege," said the Prime Minister, "to extend to you the hearty congratulations of the government and people of Canada upon having been selected by His Majesty King George fifth as his Majesty's representative in Canada, and upon having to-day assumed the duties and responsibilities of this high office."

"On behalf of the government and people of Canada, it is also my privilege to extend to Lady Tweedsmuir and yourself, and to the members of your family, our hearty welcome to our country. It is a delight to us to welcome, in Canada's newly appointed Governor-General, one who is already well and widely known throughout our Dominion, and one who is a personal acquaintance of a very large number of its citizens."

"FAMILIAR FRIEND"

After touching on achievement marking the career of Baron Tweedsmuir and his wife, the Prime Minister said:

"Your Excellency will perhaps forgive me if, having made mention of you having been chosen by the King, I may say more than one occasion, as His Majesty's representative in high office, and honourably by your sovereign in other ways I venture to add that it is as John Buchan the author, in whom the Canadian people, that you will find your warmest abiding place in the hearts of the Canadian people. In your aristocracy of mind and spirit, in your wealth of imagination, you have been a familiar friend in many a Canadian home for many a year."

"I recognize," he said, "that the welcome is given to me as the personal representative of our beloved King, and it will be my duty and my pleasure to convey to His Majesty the expression and devotion to his person and his throne."

"Mr. Prime Minister, it will be my duty to watch at close quarters with profound interest and sympathy the steps of this country's advance to that security and prosperity which is due to me. I shall be proud indeed if, at the end of my sojourn here, I can think that I have contributed my mite of effort to the fulfillment of Canada's destiny."

WELCOMED BY PROVINCE

The Governor-General repeated his address in French and then received the welcome of the province of Quebec, extended by Premier Thierscherauer. To him Lord Tweedsmuir then responded briefly.

Major Gregoire of Quebec delivered the third welcoming address on behalf of the city, and to him the Governor-General also responded.

SHOCK HANDS

The Dominion Government then played host at a reception and supper. This gave the hundreds of guests an opportunity to meet the new Governor-General and his wife. During the reception Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir shook hands with all who passed before them.

Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir afterward left and boarded their special train, scheduled to take them to Ottawa.

MAY SETTLE CABINET TILT

Premier Lyons May Agree Hughes Remain in Australian Ministry

Canadian Press

Melbourne, Australia, Nov. 4.—Prime Minister Joseph A. Lyons today had an interview with Mr. W. M. Hughes, vice-president of the Executive Council, whose resignation he requested on the ground that Mr. Hughes disagrees with the cabinet regarding economic sanctions against Italy.

Representatives of the official life of Canada were present in the council chamber, headed by Prime Minister King. The Dominion cabinet, the judges of the Supreme Court of Canada, the members of the Senate, the Premiers of Quebec, ecclesiastical notables and citizens from many walks of life thronged the chamber, whose bright red furnishings were heightened by uniforms of military, naval and airforce officers, Fifty Councillors and foreign diplomats.

Three oaths

Lord Tweedsmuir took three oaths after his secretary, A. S. Redfern, had read aloud the commission from the King appointing the new Governor-General. These were the oath of allegiance, the oath of office and his oath as captain of the Great Seal of Canada. Following this Prime Minister King read an address of welcome from the government and people of Canada. To this the Governor-General replied in English and French, voicing his pleasure at being selected for the office and his hope that, during his regime, he might contribute something to the well-being of this country.

BRIGHT LIGHTS

Seated on the throne beneath Charles Huot's famous canvas which adorns the whole length of the chamber hall, His Excellency, garbed in brilliant uniform whose silver epaulettes and riband of the Order of St. Michael and St. George sparkled like the flash of the piercing lights that played on him, heard himself praised by Prime Minister King as a man of high courage and lofty idealism.

GREENED ABOARD SHIP

It was dark when the liner warped to the wharf at Quebec, but a huge crowd thronged the dock.

Lord Tweedsmuir was greeted aboard the ship by Premier King, and after inspecting a guard of honor on the wharf, was driven by motor, with Lady Tweedsmuir through the tortuous streets of the Ancient Capital to the Legislative Council chamber. That half of state was a riot of color. Its walls hung with portraits.

To the right of the throne was seated Sir Lyman Duff, Chief Justice of Canada and, until the moment when His Excellency was sworn in, Administrator of the Dominion.

After Baron Tweedsmuir had taken the oaths and signed the oath book,

JACK FRASER PASSES AWAY

Well-known Union Bay Merchant Succumbs in Vancouver after Long Illness

Jack Fraser, well-known island

pioneer and brother of the late

Dr. R. L. Fraser of Victoria, passed away yesterday evening at the Vancouver General Hospital,

after a long illness. Funeral services will be held at Nunn and

Thomson's Funeral Home on Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and interment will be in Vancouver.

Mr. Fraser was born in Kincardine,

Ontario, sixty-six years ago and had lived in British Columbia for fifty years. He landed at Union Bay, a claimant in Vancouver, in 1893 and at a distance of a mile from the present town. He worked at various jobs, including fishing, lumbering and mining, and later returned to Union Bay.

In 1906 Charles R. Bishop, now

of Bishop and Worthington, was traveling the island for E. P. Rilliet and Company, and Mr. Fraser was operating a store at Union Bay. A partnership was entered into between the two and it lasted until 1917, when Mr.

Bishop sold out his interest to Alfred

Horne. This partnership lasted until

Mr. Horne's death.

Mr. Fraser was widely known throughout this province, and among the shipping fraternity. Until the time of his death he was still active in the lumber industry.

Mr. Fraser was noted for his philanropy. He always had his hand in his pocket helping some one, and when Mr. Bishop decided to sell his interest in the business in 1917, Mr.

Fraser suggested that they wipe out all the debts, which ran between $15,000 and $20,000. It was done.

Canadian Press
London, Ont., Nov. 4.—The Gideons plan to place Bibles on the desks in the House of Commons and provincial legislatures throughout the Dominion according to the announcement contained in a week-end address here by Davis Curle of London, district officer. "Our plans," he said, "are incomplete. We may not have Bibles available for every desk. But we hope to put them on as many as possible."

Two Publishers Are Honored

Canadian Press Congratulates Lord Atholstan, P. D. Ross on Long Service

Toronto, Nov. 4.—Two outstanding Canadian daily newspaper publishers, Lord Atholstan of The Montreal Star and P. D. Ross of The Ottawa Journal, were honored to-day by resolutions of the board of directors of the Canadian Press, gathered here in semi-annual meeting.

Congratulating Lord Atholstan on his sixty-sixth year of continuous newspaper publication, the resolution said: "We are especially proud of the fact that Lord Atholstan has pursued his career solely within the orbit of journalism. His courage, genius and success have been an inspiration. Many of Canada's outstanding journalists have been his pupils. We know him as a great newspaperman, a great Canadian and a steadfast upholder of British institutions."

"Ever since its inception Lord Atholstan has been a loyal and helpful supporter of the Canadian Press. The Montreal Star has made an important contribution to the success of our organization and the encouragement of Canadian journalism."

MR. ROSS CONGRATULATED

The board's resolution congratulated

Mr. Ross on fifty-five years in active newspaper work and the approaching fiftieth anniversary of the founding of The Ottawa Journal. "A contribution to the gallery of Canadian newspapers in which his talents and energies have been so strikingly revealed," and continued: "This board regards it as privilege to place on record its admiration of the personal qualities of Mr. Ross—qualities which have been consistently reflected in the policies and practices of the newspaper."

"The Ottawa Journal throughout its fifty years has been, in its many straightforwardness, a living likeness of the man who fashioned it."

Associated Press
Turin, Italy, November 4.—Resentment flared in the open in anti-foreign demonstrations against sanc-tionist nations here Saturday evening. At two motion picture houses, ballets were hissed off the stage. When chorus girls with French and English names danced on the stages of the Victoria and Balbo theatres, the audiences began whistling, hissing and shouting protests.

There were cries of "Down with England!" "Down with sanctionist countries!" The shouts stopped only when the curtains were lowered.

MINISTER TO U.S. IS TO BE NAMED

King Cabinet This Week May Choose Successor to Hon. W. D. Herridge

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—Problems of finance, constitutional law and trade are to come to the fore in government circles this week. To-day discussions were opened for a $75,000,000-general purpose loan and developments along other lines of governmental activity are expected to take place during the week.

Appointment of counsel for the reference to the Supreme Court on the validity of the social legislation passed at the last session of Parliament is looked for almost any day.

Naming of a Canadian minister to the United States to fill the Washington post left vacant by the resignation of Hon. W. D. Herridge is another move which may come this week. Canadian trade experts are due to return to Washington soon to resume negotiations with a view to making a trade treaty and with this matter in an active state it is believed the government will want a minister on the job at the United States capital as soon as possible.

Over the week-end the cabinet was occupied with the ceremonies of inaugurating the new Governor-General, the last of which took place to-day. The cabinet is expected to hold a session to-morrow.

Fixing a date for the Dominion-Provincial Conference is one of the matters which will receive attention this week.

Three in Auto Killed By Train

Five Injured in Crossing Accident Fourteen Miles From Port Arthur, Ont.

Canadian Press

Port Arthur, Nov. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Makowski and Mrs. Paul Solty, all of Murillo, Ont., were instantly killed early to-day when their automobile was struck by a Canadian Pacific freight train fourteen miles west of here.

Five others were injured, two of them critically, in the level crossing crash. Most seriously hurt were Andrew Kozuk and his nephew Dan Kozuk, both of Kakabeka Falls.

Mrs. Andrew Kozuk, Venoria Makowski, seventeen, and Helen Solty, five, received a severe shaking up.

Andrew Kozuk, a sectionman, was driving the car in which the party was returning to Murillo after celebrating the Makowski's silver wedding anniversary in Fort William.

A light snow falling made visibility poor and the car was half-way across the rails when the locomotive struck it. The auto was cut in two. The three persons killed were all in the back seat.

An ambulance summoned from Fort William conveyed the injured to hospital.

An inquest will be held.

Family Dies In Tenement Fire

Mother and Five Children Burned to Death in New York

Associated Press

New York, November 4.—A mother and her five children were burned to death yesterday when fire swept through a Bronx tenement building.

Fire marshals said the fire was of incendiary origin and a firebug was being hunted to-day.

The executive decided also to hold the association's annual meeting in Vancouver on December 14, and a provincial convention of the party at Vancouver on June 10 and 11 next year. At the annual meeting it is likely a provincial leader will be elected to succeed Dr. S. F. Tolmie, former Premier.

The remains were identified by the husband and father, Louis Di Donato, who told police he ran panic-stricken from the fourth floor apartment to seek help at the first cries of fire.

About forty other tenants left their flats by rear balconies to cross over to adjoining buildings and to safety.

The victims:

Mrs. Margaret Di Donato, thirty-nine; her sons, Alfonso, fourteen; and Joseph, seven, and her daughters, Santa, twelve; Mamie, eleven, and Louise, eight.

THE NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL

THE CIRCUMSTANCES IN WHICH Lord Tweedsmuir assumes the duties of Governor-General of Canada are unique in some ways. Unlike many other occupants of Rideau Hall he comes unheralded by a record of distinction in Britain's diplomatic service, as an eminent-pro-consul in one of the other great Dominions or dependencies, as an outstanding figure in British public life, as a leading soldier, or a highly-placed member of the British hereditary nobility. Yet he has had a more intimate contact with the Canadian public, whether in the mansions of the rich or the cottages of the poor, than any other man who has been appointed to represent his sovereign at the national capital. In some instances, it has been deemed necessary to present to the Canadian people much biographical data concerning a prospective Governor-General. In the present case little of that kind of press-agency is necessary; the numerous literary works of John Buchan, which for years have had a wide circulation in Canada, have performed that task very thoroughly.

Most Canadians would have liked the new Governor-General to come to this Dominion under the name he has made famous in his literary career. To them the title which was bestowed upon him in accordance with tradition adds nothing to his distinction, and no matter what formalities may emphasize Lord Tweedsmuir, John Buchan will still have pride of place in the minds of the majority of the Canadian people. Nor is it too much to assume that however much he appreciates the honor implied by his titular transformation, he will cherish a secret gratification over the general acceptance here of the name which has been associated with his most notable achievements.

Canada will wish him well in his high post. He comes under favorable auspices, because he is an old-time intimate of both the Prime Minister and the Leader of the Opposition. Beyond this he knows Canada and will find in the Canadian people an interested and sympathetic public.

THE COMING CONFERENCE

DURING THE RECENT DOMINION general election campaign Mr. Mackenzie King laid special emphasis on the importance of close co-operation between the federal and provincial governments. While he has not publicly set the date for a conference with this objective in view, nor outlined the agenda, dispatches from Ottawa tell us that this and other matters which form part of the new government's programme are practically certain to be dealt with within the next few weeks.

We may be sure that the next Dominion-provincial conference will differ considerably from similar gatherings at Ottawa in recent years. As a strong believer in round-table consultation, Mr. King will listen to everything the provincial representatives have to say, weigh their proposals with what he knows the Dominion can contribute toward the solution of common problems, and then see what can be done that will be mutually helpful.

Unemployment naturally will take a prominent position in the conference's agenda; for Mr. King and the party he leads recognize this as the paramount issue of the day, and one which must be dealt with in a practical manner if any substantial improvement is to be effected. The Prime Minister's plan, as is well known, is the establishment of a national commission to study the matter from every point of view, with, eventually, the adoption of a policy of co-operation between all governmental and private agencies. The ultimate aim is to get as many Canadians as possible off the dole in the quickest time.

Consideration also will be given to the question of amendments to the B.N.A. Act. "The first amendment," Mr. King said in Parliament last January, "should be one which would give this country the right to amend its own constitution. It is the only country, so far as I know, that has not this right." As The Winnipeg Free Press very properly points out, "there never was a more propitious time for allying any fears that have existed regarding this and for reaching an agreement which will allow, from time to time, the necessary adaption of the constitution to changing conditions."

The new government, by the way, also is committed to an investigation, by co-operation with the provinces, of the cost of government—federal, provincial, and municipal. Such recommendations as may result from an inquiry of this kind may mean marked changes in the financial relationships between the various governing bodies of the country.

It will require more than one conference before the country is rid of some of the anomalies which now hamper its progress; but if at this first gathering under the new dispensation at Ottawa the various problems will be attacked with vigor and in a general sympathetic spirit notable progress will be recorded.

WANG ON THE SPOT

THE ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE PREMIER Wang Chang-wei of China was prompted by the resentment of Chinese against the pro-Japanese policy which has been evident at Nanking for some time. Chinese nationalism has been very severely strained by the gradual penetration of the Japanese military services in northern China, accompanied by a diplomatic penetration into Chinese officialdom, and it is not surprising that there should be keen bitterness in many quarters against the acquiescence of the Nanking government in this continual looting of Chinese sovereignty.

Japan is pursuing her traditional course of making hay in China while the sun is shining. She took Manchuria while the great powers of the western world with profit.

were distracted by economic emergency. She is adding to her territorial plunder in China while they are now concentrating on the Italian-Ethiopian conflict. To consolidate while the consolidating is good is Japan's present-day policy, and if she has only a complaisant Chinese government to deal with she can remain master of the situation, for the time being, provided her military junta does not over-reach itself by involving her in a conflict with Russia. Vladivostock is only 450 miles from Japan, and Russia has a very heavy concentration of aircraft at that port.

In the long run, of course, the present Japanese penetration in China will wind up in precisely the same way in which every other similar incursion has wound up in the last three thousand years; the four hundred million Chinese will absorb the penetrators. Within fifty years Japan will have expended billions in Manchuria, for example, and there will scarcely be a corporal's guard of Japanese in that country. Moreover, however adroit Japanese diplomacy may be, it will not be able to conciliate the Chinese people as long as it is accompanied by the systematic looting of Chinese territory. Japan bluffed the League of Nations into paralysis a few years ago, but she can eventually have wrecked every attempt to destroy China as a national entity, incidentally wrecking every country which tried it.

A STUPID IMPOST

THERE SHOULD BE EVERY PROSPECT for a successful outcome to the representations made to Ottawa by President W. T. Straith of the Chamber of Commerce for the removal of the duties on motion picture equipment brought into Canada for the making of screen and news pictures. These charges are 50 per cent for cameras and 100 per cent for sound equipment, based upon an arbitrary valuation instead of the actual cost to their owners. Nor is any exception made in cases in which the equipment comes in for temporary operating purposes; no rebate is given when it returns abroad.

The imposition of this duty was one of the most senseless things in the interminable list of baseless customs charges imposed by the late administration at Ottawa. It protected no Canadian industry, because there is no equipment of this kind manufactured in Canada, and the only mechanism which is operated does not specialize in the productions for which the heavily-penalized cameras and sound devices coming from elsewhere are designed.

It is hard to imagine a course more preposterous and inconsistent than governments and municipalities spending large sums in advertising Canada abroad and then deliberately erecting obstacles in the way of individuals and companies bringing in equipment to make pictures, for exhibition in theatres and distribution in other ways, of the very features of interest which this advertising emphasizes. Mr. Straith knows of several instances in which organizations desirous of making pictures in Victoria were discouraged by the high barred-wire customs fence which was erected against them.

How on earth can this country hope to derive the fullest benefit from the tourist industry when at the same time it establishes such obstacles as the one against which the local Chamber of Commerce has been protesting? Happily, this insane vendetta against imports of all kinds, whether temporary or not, and which did not even spare oranges, lemons and bananas, also subjected to an arbitrary valuation regardless of their original cost to the importer, is at an end.

Hon. Ian Mackenzie has informed Mr. Straith that he will take up the matter of picture equipment with the responsible department at once, and it may be expected that his efforts will have a satisfactorily result.

MAN AND BRUTE

My dog has time to spare;
He settles in the sun.
And soundly sleeping there
With the great world is done.
He questions not the stars
Nor orbits that swing along.
Mankind and motor cars,
Not even right and wrong.

Things of this world are stillled,
Hunger and thirst and fear;
His pulse would not be thrilled.
Should king or prince appear.
Time has no gain to yield.
Till death his life erase;
His sport is of the field.
His joy is in the chase.

But man with time to spare
May dream and think and read.
Find round him everywhere,
Joys for his every need.
On gloomy past and gone
And all that is to be
His mind may dwell upon
In sweet serenity.

The world is his to own,
To revel in and know:
Books, when he sits alone,
Can set his heart aglow.
His is the finer sense.
Which nowhere else appears.
A vast experience
To gladden all his years.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY*HOW AUSTRALIA DID IT

The Indianapolis News

Financial collapse appeared inevitable, but Australians, thanks to the democracy that gave them power to reject weird recovery dreams, decided to revert "to the ancient and honorable formula of thrift, economy and hard work." Advice was sought from economists and financiers free from political patronage prejudice. Experts recommended drastic readjustment of internal finance. All adjustable government expenditures were slashed 20 per cent, including salaries of public servants. Government bondholders were asked to accept lower interest rates. Ninety-seven per cent old and $2,500,000 was converted. The co-operation of industry resulted in restoring confidence in both government and private industry, and Australia is said to be definitely headed toward prosperity. Americans, tiring of political patronage favors supplanting the right of honest men to work and profit, may consider Australia's experience with profit.

Loose Ends

It is all very well to complain, but Mr. Denison could do much worse if he wanted to—in England they get a kick out of elections—the noble Viscounts completes the grand circuit—and we don't know anything about democracy.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

FRAIL CREATURE

THE PRESENT WEATHER (the cold snap is still on as I write this) is due to a general disturbance all over the world, says our veteran expert, Mr. Denison. Something has happened to upset the weather everywhere, but Mr. Denison offers us this compensation—Victoria isn't likely to have any of the earthquakes experienced elsewhere in America because we are not in the earthquake belt.

This is comforting indeed. It shows you also how little is required to set the fragile human life which crawls upon this tiny speck of dust. Let the temperature drop twenty degrees and instantly humans are in misery. Let it drop 200 degrees, an inconsiderable change, and human life would perish almost overnight. Let the earth tip on its axis by a margin too small to be observed from the other planets and the ice would come down again from the north, our race would be frozen to a man. We are practically as delicate but not as beautiful as the dahlias in my garden yonder, which have withered utterly in six degrees of frost.

Did you ever think of that as you stoked your furnace at night? Did it ever occur to you that one of these days the earth probably will tilt on its axis and all life will be frozen stiff? Indeed, were the earth to disappear, blow away in fragments before morning, the universe would never note the difference. It is losing far more valuable members all the time. I mean, you ought to think of these things and realize how lucky you are, instead of complaining against Mr. Denison, who personally makes the weather and must have his little joke once in a while. He could easily make it so much worse if he wanted to.

AMATEURS

THE BRITISH ELECTIONS, now underway, may make the Canadian politician feel juvenile and the Canadian elector envious. We simply don't understand the art of political campaigning over here. We are amateurs and yokels compared to the good old British campaigners. Over there the other night a mob surged up on the platform and shook fists at Mr. Eliot, the minister of agriculture, and seemed about to beat him up for a few minutes. At another place a candidate was hauled off the platform and kicked out of his own meeting—every day brings news of some new and exciting incident of this sort.

Over here nothing like that ever happens. Our recent political campaign, which was regarded as highly sensational because some desperate men hissed the Prime Minister in Victoria and Vancouver, was just a spinster's tea party compared with the frenzied excitement prevailing in the Old Land, the home of democracy and the mother of the mother of Parliaments.

It is quite all right over there, this exuberance and violence at election times, but if it were to occur here we would feel humiliated. Englishmen living here would be the first to realize that the nature of an Italian gentleman and thought they were assured of his vote. But after going to the polls, this untrained elector marched into the C.C.P. committee rooms and announced: "Well, I fix dat fella McGee. I'm C.C.P. me. I put my cross beside Mr. Gerry. Cross him right out!" That was one of the votes Gerry got.

The same story is told about Fred Burden, who used to be Minister of Lands in the Tolmie government and then agent-general in London. In the camp of Prince George it is the custom to mark a cross with a blue pencil on all ties that are below grade to cull them from the good ones.

Liberal politicians will assure you that in the election of 1928 large numbers of Bohunk tie cutters, deciding to vote Liberal, cut the ballot paper by marking the customary cross after his name.

much about it. Hardly anybody can rouse himself sufficiently to kiss our politicians, even at election times. It is a great mistake, or rather it is the natural tendency in a country where people are so far apart as in ours, where excitement and feeling passes with such difficulty between man and man.

Democracy won't perish in a country where the people haul politicians from the platform to assert their democratic rights. It will only perish where people won't go to the meeting at all. Democracy's danger is not that it will make government crude and violent but that it will die through sheer boredom.

VIOLENT VISCOUNT

MORE INTERESTING still is the essential tolerance of the British electorate even in times of violent prejudices like this. Take the case of the former Mr. Snowden. He was known as a fighting left-wing Socialist, an implacable enemy of the ruling classes. Next we find this remarkable little man as the hardest-boiled, budget-balancing chancellor the exchequer has known in recent times, demanding England's share of the sponge cake, as the phrase went, in the payment of international debts. The next transition sees him supporting a national government controlled by the Conservative Party machine, which had locked up the poor Prime Minister in a golden cage surrounded by elderly dowagers. Meanwhile the proletarian has become a noble lord and belongs to the ruling classes which he had sedulously undermined for years.

Now in Canada, with an electorate less tolerant and less intelligent, the former Mr. Snowden would have been laughed out of public life long before he had reached this stage. If he had taken a tittle, that would have been the end of him in politics. None of our politicians have dared to do it even though titles were re-established by Mr. Bennett for a brief inglorious period.

But in England even that is not the end of this political rake's progress. Behold, the Viscount has broken with the Tories and is out in this campaign fighting for the Liberals. He has not run through the whole gamut of British politics and adorned all parties. In Canada he would have been with Mr. Stevens in the wilderness long ago, but over there no one thinks anything of Mr. Churchill, a great Liberal becoming a great Tory, quarreling with Mr. Baldwin most violently only last year and now warmly supporting him.

They seem to understand politics over there better than we do, but I suppose we shall learn in time.

FIXING MR. MCGEE

SPAKING OF our political ignorance, a politician from Vancouver was telling me to-day of a charming incident in the epic battle of Buffard, which still hangs in the balance. It seems that the Liberal campaigners had worked hard on the better nature of an Italian gentleman and thought they were assured of his vote. But after going to the polls, this untrained elector marched into the C.C.P. committee rooms and announced: "Well, I fix dat fella McGee. I'm C.C.P. me. I put my cross beside Mr. Gerry. Cross him right out!" That was one of the votes Gerry got.

say that the so-called "economists"

the Douglas analysis is that prices move toward the consumer at a greater rate of flow, in the continu-

OLD TIMERS LIVE AGAIN

Louis Le Bourdais Says Cariboo Pioneers Started History of B.C.

The men who came to the Cariboo from far and near in the early days in search of gold were made to live again, in word and in picture, on Saturday night by Louis Le Bourdais, speaking before an audience of eighty at a meeting of the B.C. Historical Association in the Provincial Library.

Mr. Le Bourdais, who has for many years lived in the Cariboo, and who has a close acquaintance with the men and the places of which he was speaking, had many amusing and human tales to tell of the pioneers, bringing to his audience their characters as well as their achievements.

He illustrated his talk with over 100 slides, made from a unique collection of old photographs of the early life of the Cariboo which he has collected.

"British Columbia and the west," he said, "would never have been what they are, and Confederation might have been delayed, if it had not been for the character of these old-timers and the hardships through which they went."

"Bill Brown and others like him made this country possible."

NEW ERA BEGINNING

The Cariboo, he said, was at the beginning of another era of great activity. He quoted the extensive plans of an English syndicate in the Williams Creek area as an indication of the new interest awakening in the district.

At present there were only two quartz mines producing—Cariboo Gold Quartz and Island Mountain—but there were at least fifty miles of vein as good as theirs still to be developed.

Mr. Le Bourdais traced the history of the first days of gold mining in British Columbia, telling how gold was first discovered in 1852, and how further strikes in 1854 and 1857 led to the beginning of the gold rush in 1858. In 1859 the rush traveled up the Fraser River; the next year it reached Quesnel, and in 1862 attained its peak at Williams Creek.

He showed a view of the spot where the first Cariboo gold strike was made at Williams Creek in 1852.

EARLY TRANSPORTATION

With a long series of pictures Mr. Le Bourdais traced the history of the miners and their means of transportation.

He showed the pack-board of the first years; the pack horses, the strange one-wheeled barrow invented by Andrew Giese of Victoria, on which 400 pounds could be carried, then the advent of the pack train.

One slide was made from the only picture in existence of one of the camels imported by an enterprising miner with the idea of "driving the horses off the trail." While the camel lasted, said Mr. Le Bourdais, they fulfilled this object literally, by their smell.

Another photograph was of the first cart, imported by way of Cape Horn, and which was so strongly built that it is still in service.

He had pictures of the bull teams, the last one of which left the road in 1899, and of the steam traction engines which were total failure.

Along with the slides of the various forms of transportation, Mr. Le Bourdais showed pictures of the pioneers who went with them, and of the spots which they made famous.

AMUSING TALES

Had many amusing tales of these first miners, of Davey, the little Welshman who jumped ship in Esquimalt harbor, and always wore a high hat and frock coat on stage night in Barkerville; of Abraham Serow, J.P., and his amusing and famous rulings, and of Scotch Jenny, the hotel keeper, who "drank like a

PUPPET SHOW WAS SUCCESS

Large Audiences Saw "The Wizard of Oz" at the Empire on Saturday

Altogether delightful and whimsical and fairly breathing the spirit of childhood was the marionette production of "The Wizard of Oz," which was presented twice at the Empire Theatre on Saturday, under the auspices of the Commodore Broughton Chapter I.O.D.E.

The matinee performance was entirely sold out, hundreds of youngsters attending and showing their appreciation with much laughter and applause.

Everyone, of course, knows the story of "The Wizard of Oz"—how little red-headed Dorothy was blown away, in her cottage from Kansas and whisked to the land of the Munchkins. With her went a little black dog Toto. She met a Scarecrow, the Tin Woodman, and joined them all in the forest where he might walk about, a roaring Lion and a number of other interesting persons and animals. They all went to the Emerald City and met the famous Wizard of Oz.

The scenery—in the production, which was put on by the Cornish Players of Seattle, was very well done. The voices of the players came out distinctly. For many in the audience it was their first marionette show and judging by laughter and applause everyone enjoyed the performance thoroughly.

Music was supplied before the performance and between the acts by a local trio, composed of Margaret Pringle, pianist; John Pimm, violinist, and Herbert Bottin, cellist.

There was also music in the show and the performers sang a number of catchy airs.

Urge Harbor Advisory Body

Nanaimo Forwards Resolution to Ottawa Suggesting Unpaid Committee

Nanaimo, Nov. 4.—A resolution urging that an advisory harbor committee be formed, consisting of one member appointed by the government and a member each the Nanaimo city council, the Board of Trade and the Vancouver Island Chamber of Mines and Commerce was passed at Saturday evening's meeting of the latter organization. Members of the committee would be expected to work without remuneration.

With the erection of the local assembly wharf and the possible establishment of more industries at this point, it is believed the formation of such a committee would materially aid the port of Nanaimo.

Copies of the resolution were ordered sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, the Minister of Marine, J. S. Taylor, M.P., and Alan Chambers.

Representatives of the government placed mining camp, Nanaimo River, were guests of the bureau, and were addressed by Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Mines and Labor.

Mr. Pearson suggested that the next few years would see a shortage of trained labor, and for that reason the forestry and placer mining camps had been established.

"The training that you get will at least give you a working knowledge of your job," he said. "I am sorry we cannot do still more for you." "Should the government see fit to endorse the plans we are considering the camps may become a permanent institution."

LANGFORD

The monthly meeting of the members of St. Matthew's Guild will be held on Wednesday, November 6 at the home of Mrs. R. M. Heggie, St. Aidan's House, at 2.30 o'clock.

At the annual general meeting of the Esquimalt Rural Nursing service a request was made that telephone calls for the nurse, Miss D. Wilkie, R.N., Belmont 18, should be made before 10 a.m., and not later than 6 p.m. Office hours are from 9 to 10 a.m. and 5 to 6 p.m.

Miss Betty Smedley, R.N., late of the tin; her nursing, specializing with

S. Joseph's Training School, is sailing by the Empress of Britain from Quebec for England. After visiting friends in London, Miss Smedley will later stay with relatives at Manchester.

After Christmas she will continue on to Australia.

Held Hallowe'en
Hard Times Party

About thirty-five members of the Christ Church Cathedral A.Y.P.A. met in the guildroom on Wednesday evening for the Hallowe'en social, which was in the form of a hard-time party. The entertainment for the evening was arranged and carried out by Bill Taylor and the members of his group and proved very successful from start to finish. Immediately after the business of the evening, which was commenced in the guildroom, including games appropriate to the season, such as bobbing for apples. Later a very clever treasure hunt was held throughout the building, which was followed by dancing in the gymnasium. During the evening refreshments, consisting of pumpkin pie, doughnuts and coffee were served in the guildroom.

S.O.S. Club Party—The S.O.S. Club will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday in the club room, Government Street at 8 o'clock. A short business meeting will be followed by a Hallowe'en party. Members are asked to wear fancy dress.

Magnificent Bouquets For Lady Tweedsmuir at Installation of Gov.-General

Canadian Press
Quebec, Nov. 4.—Canada welcomed Lady Tweedsmuir, wife of the new Governor-General, with superb orchids and glowing roses.

In the legislative council chamber of the Parliament Buildings, Saturday night, Her Excellency was made the recipient of two magnificent bouquets. The first, consisting entirely of orchids, was handed her by Mme. Lapointe, wife of Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice at the head of the ceremony which was installed Canada's new Governor-General.

Subsequently, Mme. Taschereau, wife of the Premier of Quebec, presented her with an equally beautiful bouquet of rich red roses. Each gift was acknowledged with a gracious bow.

A gown of dark blue chiffon crepe with a round decolletage, and deep gathered flounce on the long skirt was worn by Lady Tweedsmuir. Her ornaments were a pearl necklace and a large diamond brooch.

HONOLULU IN
"Y" CAVALCADE

When icy winds came down from the north necessitating stoking the furnace and carrying ashes, that is the time one feels like boarding the first liner outbound for Honolulu. Unfortunately, all are not able to do this, but Mrs. George Strain in her Hawaiian scene in "Let's Be Friends" brings Honolulu to Victoria. No Hawaiian scene would be complete without its famous Hula, and Miss Betty Fawcett takes the solo part, assisted by the Misses Vida Shandley, Birdie Pendray, Mary McDonald and Nora Williams. The presentation of flower leis is another pleasing feature, and the music will be supplied by Ron Heater's Walkiki Beach players.

"Let's Be Friends" is by Miss Dorothy Crighton and will be at the Empire Theatre Friday and Saturday, November 8 and 9 under the auspices of the Y.W.C.A.

Hallowe'en Masquerade—A Hallowe'en masquerade dance will be given by the Girls' Branch of the St. Saviour's W.A. Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the St. Saviour's Hall. A fine programme has been arranged, also games and other attractions. A large attendance is being looked for so as to make the event a success.

Miss Daryce Horne, who has been visiting in the east for the past four months, has returned to her home on Oscar Street.

Mr. Andrew Gray, Catherine Street, has returned to the city from Kingston, Ont., where she had been visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Major and Mrs. Loughlin Hughes.

Mr. G. Saul of Decker Lake, who has moved down to Victoria from his home in the northern interior is spending a few weeks in Victoria with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Saul, Palmwood Road.

Mrs. C. C. Bird, Vancouver Street, who has been visiting in Vancouver since returning from the semi-annual meeting of the Provincial Chapter, I.O.D.E. at Powell River, will return to-morrow to her home in Victoria.

Mr. Ray Dak of England, who has been spending a few days in Victoria and was among the out-of-town guests at the Grey-Burnes wedding on Saturday evening, has left for Vancouver to spend a few days there before proceeding to Calgary to visit friends.

Miss Valerie Britton of Farnham, England, who accompanied Miss Alice Carey on her return from England and who has been the guest of Miss Carey in Victoria for the last month, left to-day for the mainland on her way to Calgary, where she will visit friends until after Christmas, when she will leave for her home in England.

The Eight Aces held their first bridge game of the season at the home of Mrs. Barney Simmons. An enjoyable evening was spent, prizes being won by Miss Doris Smith and Alma Keeler. The members present were Misses Doris Smith, Laura Coldwell, Isabel Sican, Alma Keeler, Mrs. Barney Simmons and Tess Ward. The guests were Mr. Barney Simmons, Mr. N. Glynn and Mr. Wells.

The engagement is announced of Flight Commander Eric Redgrave-Gunner of Cranbrook and Fernie to Mrs. Ethel M. Cammett of Los Angeles, California, and Fairbanks, Alaska. The marriage will take place in Victoria, on December 8. The groom-elect is well known in aviation circles in California, British Columbia and Alaska as an air pilot in the Royal Air Force and in the Royal Scots Regiment. Mrs. Cammett has many friends in the territory of Alaska.

A gown of dark blue chiffon crepe with a round decolletage, and deep gathered flounce on the long skirt was worn by Lady Tweedsmuir. Her ornaments were a pearl necklace and a large diamond brooch.

Under the auspices of Princess Alexandra Lodge Daughters of England, a very enjoyable Hallowe'en bridge tea was held in the S.O.E. Hall.

The tables were prettily decorated in Hallowe'en colors and black candlesticks with orange tapers in the centre. The long table was covered with a Hallowe'en tablecloth, a black rose bowl with marigolds making colorful decoration. Mrs. G. O'Neill being responsible for same. The winners of the bridge game were Mrs. L. Bridges and Mrs. E. Hammett, and the foursome—Mrs. Nelson Clarke, Mrs. Harry Dickson, Mrs. H. F. Mitchell and Miss Edythe Wilkinson, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Harry Jones, Mrs. Ted Whitaker, Fred Storey, the Misses E. Duckworth, M. McAlister, Nodria Richardson, Jean Cleat and Marjorie Hawkins.

CAREY—BURGESS
At St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, on Saturday evening, at 8:30 o'clock, Rev. Canon A. E. de L. Nunns united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Florence Mary, daughter of Mr. Thomas A. Burgess of 2024 Bryton Street, and the late Mrs. Burgess, to Mr. George Albert Carey, second son of the late Mr. G. Carey and of Mrs. Carey of 1993 Chandler Avenue.

For the occasion standard basketts filled with chrysanthemums in yellow, white and mauve, colorings decorated the aisle leading to the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractively gowned in an imported model of coral pink lace, with which she wore a picture hat to match, pink lace mittens of the same shade, and carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations.

She was attended by Miss Ruth Carey, sister of the groom, who wore a pretty frock of pale green taffeta, with a picture hat in the same shade, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and anterhiums.

The bridegroom was supported by Mr. George Burgess, brother of the bride, while Mr. Clifford Burgess of Winnipeg, brother of the bride, and Mr. Ronald Grant acted as ushers.

The organist was Mrs. Mary S. F. T. C. Wickett, who directed the wedding march and during the signing of the register Mrs. Dudley Wickett sang "O Father, All Creating."

At the conclusion of the service a small reception was held at the home of the bride's father, Bryton Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Carey left on the midnight boat for Vancouver from where they will leave by motor on a trip to Mexico. Later they will make their home in Victoria.

HILTON—RIVERS

On Saturday afternoon, at 2:15 o'clock, in the Metropolitan Church manse, Rev. E. F. Weaver solemnized the marriage of Vera, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Bryant, 3127 Shearburn Street, to Mr. Frederick Hamilton Wells, second son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Wells, Cedar Hill. The church had been beautifully decorated by Miss Mary Alice Thompson, H. H. Hatchet and Mrs. E. Roskelly.

Entertaining the church with father to the strains of the Bridal Chorus, played by Mr. Swan, the bride was made in her gown of white organdy, made with soft frills and a cape to match. Her veil of white net was held to her head with a wreath of orange blossoms in soft folds to the hem of her dress. Long silk mittens and white shoe completed her toilette, and she carried a bouquet of white and pale pink carnations. Her only ornament was a gold pendant and chain, the gift of the bridegroom.

There were three attendants, Mrs. W. Hatchet, sister of the bride, was matron of honor wearing a pale green organdy dress with ruffed shirt cape, her hat trimmed with pink and the silk mittens frilled at the cuffs. Her bouquet was of pale pink snapdragons.

VARSITY WOMEN TEA HOSTESSES

Delightful Affair at Dr. Olga Jardine's Aids Bursary Fund

Impetus was given to the bursary fund of the University Women's Club on Saturday afternoon when Dr. Olga Jardine, the president, threw open her home at 30 Douglas Street on the occasion of the annual silver tea in aid of the cause.

The autumn shades of orange and bronze were reflected in the flowers throughout the reception rooms, where Dr. Jardine received the many guests, assisted by Mrs. H. L. Smith, the convener; Mrs. G. M. Weir, Miss Archibald, Mrs. Norman Coop, Mrs. A. W. McCurdy, Miss Iris Garnett, Miss Mary Scott and Miss Isabel Thomas.

Presiding at the tea-table, with its artistic centrepiece of mauve chrysanthemums and matching tapers, were Mrs. M. E. Godson, Miss I. Thomas, Miss Nan Eaton, Miss Jeannette Cain and Mrs. P. C. Green, while those assisting with the serving were Miss Feto, Miss Scott, Miss Bell, Miss Nora K. Drury and Miss Fields.

At the receipt of customs were the treasurer, Miss Garnett, and Miss Archibald.

ROYAL PAIR AT NIAGARA FALLS

Prince of the Asturias and Bride on Way to Honey-mooner's Mecca

Toronto, Nov. 4.—The Prince of the Asturias, heir-presumptive to the Spanish throne, with his bride, the former Princess Maria Mercedes of Bourbon-Oribe, niece of the last King of Naples, will leave for Buffalo to-day and reach the shrine of their honeymoon, and the Mecca of newlyweds for some decades, Niagara Falls.

In doing so the Prince, who is traveling incognito as Don Juan De Bourbon, will be realizing one of the glamorous dreams of his youth—to take his bride across the ocean with him and look upon the majesty of the falls.

The son of the deposed King of Spain and his royal bride reached Toronto today and passed a quiet evening in the vice-regal suite of a downtown hotel.

Prince Juan, spoken to by reporters, expressed his amazement that when he landed in New York ship news reporters evinced some interest in his personal affairs, but wanted to know his opinion of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

They will spend their honeymoon in Florida, where the families often were together during the lifetime of Edison and the first Mrs. Hughes, both of whom died in 1931.

SUPPER DANCE WAS POPULAR

Garrison Badminton Club Entertained Visiting Vancouver Players Saturday

Despite the fact that it was the third successive dance of the week, the supper dance at the Empress Hotel on Saturday evening attracted a large number of guests.

One of the largest groups at the tables was composed of visitors playing from the Vancouver Badminton Club, entertained by the Garrison Badminton Club as a popular wind-up to the afternoon matches.

The Preston orchestra, directed by Billy Tickle, was in good form, reviving many of the Latin rhumbas, drawing repeated encores, other popular numbers being "I'm in the Mood for Love" and "No Strings". Chrysanthemums were used for the table decorations in the ballroom.

The visiting badminton players present included the Misses B. L. Green, F. Carlisle, E. MacKay, C. J. Dunn, Frampton, E. Earle, McAllister, M. Morris, Messrs. E. H. Elliott, R. Forsyth, J. Powell, H. Shaw, K. Black, P. Tyford, Birch and Dr. Penwell, while local club members were Col. F. G. Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Rayment, Mrs. W. H. ### Fancy Dress Party Held at St. Martin's

St. Martin's Girls' W.A. with a few friends and the Evening Business Women's Branch held a very enjoyable and successful Halloween party in the parish hall, Friday evening.

The hall was effectively decorated by the girls with orange and black crepe paper and Hallowe'en novelties.

About thirty-six girls and four grownups, all in fancy dress as pirates, witches, gypsies, old fashioned ladies and others, composed the merry gathering.

The games, which were in charge of Kay Marling and Sadie Jamieson, were greatly enjoyed.

During the grand march the judges of the costumes took place, the judge being Mrs. J. C. Newbury. The prizes were presented to the best costumes in the following classes:

Best Hallowe'en costumes, Kay Marling and Best Jones; best dressed, Sadie Jamieson and Audrey Elliott; best comic, Marguerite Hasenfratz and Grace Ralph.

Delightful refreshments were served by the girls from a table decorated with Hallowe'en novelties.

WHAT IS WARM WATER?

The bath water may be of the wrong temperature, so that baby is chilled or wet-nigh roasted. If the mother has a faulty conception of how warm water should be to please the four-months-old baby, let her use a bath thermometer and have the water at 100 or 101 degrees, which is pleasantly warm without being hot.

Almost every baby shows a dislike of being tossed about at the will of the parent. Changing diapers is inevitably unpleasant for baby is lifted firmly while the diaper is adjusted and strapped into place. Just to be held in this one position forcibly is sufficient to set the baby to crying.

Having made those changes in the mother's conduct, which would tend to improve the baby's, the decision against bathing the baby at this particular time might be advisable. Try the hour before bedtime, or earlier in the morning before baby has become so hungry as to make every diversion from her particular interest entirely disagreeable to her.

But chiefly remember that the mother gets nowhere who deals strictly with temper as temper without digging out the causes why baby is driven to act in this way in what is, for the baby, a disagreeable situation.

League Fidelity Election Issue

Labor Candidates in Britain
Challenge Baldwin Ministry's Position

By GEORGE HAMBLETON

Canadian Press Staff Writer
Liverpool, Eng., Nov. 4.—Through the industrial areas of Lancashire the Labor Party is roundly challenging the government's fidelity to the League of Nations.

"The National Government has rendered lip service only to the League," said Charles J. Kinley, Labor nominee in Bootle.

"If we have another Tory Government," echoes Mrs. Ayrton Gould, Labor candidate in Hume, "nothing can be done to stop war. Everything this government has done during the last four years has constituted a policy towards the creation of war."

INVASION OF ETHIOPIA

"Had the National Government given a lead nine or ten months ago," declared Joe Compton, fighting for Labor in the Gorton division of Manchester, "there would have been no invasion of Ethiopia by the League. The fact the government is going in for rearmament and the expansion of the air force is practically telling the whole world they do not believe in the gospel of peace enunciated by the League."

J. Bromley, general secretary of the Locomotive Engineers' and Firemen's Union, campaigning for Labor in Ardwick, saw the thin end of the wedge if the government was returned with a good majority.

MEANS TEST ISSUE

At the same time, Labor is endeavoring to swing the election issue to the means test and the domestic scene.

Hiss Helen Wilkinson, speaking at Clayton, declared the condition of the distressed areas was the best answer to the government's "posters of peace."

"The issue in this election," Miss Wilkinson added, "is not Mussolini or Ethiopia, but home affairs."

"Electors of Liverpool," retorts a National Government placard, referring to the municipal election last Friday, "you saved your city from the Socialists on November 1. Now save your country at the general election."

The Liverpool Post, commenting on the newly-announced government plan to spend $50,000,000 on highway improvement, declared: "Road-making alone cannot, it is true, go far in reducing unemployment, but the need for the extensive plan the government has in view is urgent. Merely as a contribution to the reduction of road accidents, it should be of great value."

ROAD IMPROVEMENT PLAN

London, Nov. 4 (Canadian Press)—Announcement the government intended to embark on a five-year plan of road improvement provided a surprise in the election campaign over the week-end.

Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced the plan in a broadcast speech. He said it would cost £100,000,000.

GREEKS RECALL FORMER KING

In Plebiscite 1,491,992 Vote For Restoration of Throne and 32,454 Against It

Associated Press

Athens, Nov. 4.—The Greek people voted overwhelmingly for the recall of former King George to the throne. It was announced officially to-day, with nationwide results from yesterday's plebiscite giving 1,491,992 for the monarchy to 32,454 for maintenance of the republic.

The Foreign Minister communicated the result to the former monarch, now in London, and announced a delegation was proceeding to London.

As the counting proceeded, crowds continued night long celebrations in the streets and cafes of many cities and towns.

All were waiting for a message from George in London, where news of the royalist victory had been dispatched by Dr. George Kondylis, Regent who took over the government October 10 in a bloodless coup.

NO PARTIES NOW

"There will be no political parties," Ger. Kondylis told the people of Greece. They have been broken up by the people themselves and a new epoch of reconstruction will start." Citizens, soldiers and sailors paraded through the streets of Athens yesterday evening and church bells rang out. The city soon on a gala appearance after a quiet day of voting.

INFORMAL COURT

London, Nov. 4.—George II of Greece stated at the plebiscite which restored him as king, held an "informal court" at his London Hotel to-day.

He declared, "I am delighted my people want me to return to them."

The former king, who fled from Athens twelve years ago, received his English friends and Greek royalists who showered him with congratulations.

CHANGES SUGGESTED

Aft. a conference between M. Laval and Vittorio Cerruti, Italian Ambassador to France, on October 30, Mussolini was advised, informed sources said, modified demands would gain attention at Geneva.

These modifications were said to demand Italy's acceptance of "leases" on outlying territories of Ethiopia, leaving Aksum and Harr and the interior highlands under Emperor Haile Selassie.

Germany and Soviet Russia are reported to be wooing France for the future while she serves as a buffer

PEACE EFFORTS AT DEADLOCK

British Talks With Italians Over Ethiopia Fail; Vatican Move Rumored

Associated Press

London, Nov. 4.—Informed sources said today the recent conversations at Geneva between Sir Samuel Hoare, British Foreign Secretary, and Baron Pompeo Aloisi, Italian representative, had resulted in a complete deadlock in efforts to reach a basis for peace between Italy and Ethiopia.

These sources stated Baron Aloisi had proposed no new peace suggestions and no new basis or proposals now exists which can serve for further peace talks.

It was stated officially two Italian naval experts, Rear-Admiral Banchi Bicias and Commander Montagnini, would come to London to-morrow for preliminary talks on the forthcoming international naval conference.

Italy has not yet officially accepted the invitation to attend the conference.

GIBRALTAR DISCUSSION

British officials said Italy had made no suggestion for the demilitarization of Gibraltar and the British viewpoint is such demilitarization is a matter lying outside the province of the naval conference.

Officials categorically denied statements published in London that a new front against Italy is being worked out by the British government and that a reform of the League of Nations was under discussion by Great Britain and other powers.

OFFICIALS DENY

Paris, Nov. 4.—Premier Laval rested to-day in his native Auvergne while officials admitted the possibility of the Vatican's seeking a solution of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict during the "period of waiting" before the British general election November 14. M. Laval, armed with a League of Nations mandate, will resume his conversations with British and Italian representatives to-morrow, official circles said, but they foresaw little possibility for an agreement on even a basis for negotiations before a fortnight.

The Vatican, it was said in diplomatic circles, is unable to employ pressure as a temporal power, but is sounding out interested capitals.

"The Vatican may find the solution if Mussolini is willing," one official said.

EFFECTS ON ARMY

League officials estimated the first throttling effects of economic sanctions would be felt by Italy's expatriate forces in Ethiopia sooner than the first of the year.

Embossed documents on the economic boycott, set to be launched November 18, the officials believed, would hardly be likely to halt the Italian advance before the time when military commanders would normally pause because of spring rains.

Addition of copper to the list was also suggested in the committee discussion but was not approved.

It was the consensus of the committee members that the question of adding still other products to the list should be left open. In other words, it will be possible to tighten the "key products" embargo against Italy from time to time as conditions may make it necessary.

The question of what non-members of the League may do was definitely in the foreground of the committee discussions. As the official communiqué put it: "It was agreed the embargo on these various products should not come into force until conditions for rendering it effective appeared to have been realized."

After referring the proposal to the drafting committee, it was decided to create a sub-committee to consider those countries which have been most active in participating in sanctions and having already been partly paid for, should be excluded from the application of the "buy-nothing" boycott against imports from Italy.

RIDDELL IS CHAIRMAN

Geneva, Nov. 4 (Canadian Press From Havas)—Dr. Walter A. Riddell, Canada's permanent representative here, to-day was appointed chairman of a small sub-committee formed to study the Canadian proposal that petroleum, coal, iron and steel be added to the list of exports denied to Italy.

"Such a measure," said The Guardian, "would establish the principle that the League members must not carry on wrongful trade with an aggressor because the non-members

Phillips, Mrs. James Stewart and Miss Bannerman. During the winter months the meetings will be held in the headquarters

Medical Advice Given By Radio

Wife of Operator on Sable Island Aided By Doctor in Halifax

Canadian Press

Halifax, Nov. 4.—A seaplane, prepared for a dash to lonely Sable Island with a doctor on board, did not take off Sunday because a splutter of wireless probably save the life of Mrs. Broderick, wife of the island's operator.

Stricken suddenly, the woman was suffering from fever, difficult breathing and muscle cramps, and her husband flashed a message to Halifax asking medical advice.

Dr. E. K. Maclellan diagnosed the condition as acute influenza and outlined a course of treatment.

Again the Sable Island wireless sounded. Mrs. Broderick was worse, and further instructions were required.

The doctor responded immediately and while awaiting another report he arranged for a plane to take off with Dr. John Rankine if the patient's condition did not improve.

The wireless brought another message, this time reporting Mrs. Broderick's temperature had fallen and her condition was much improved.

The flight was called off, and last night the wireless operator said his wife probably would not need a doctor.

CG.I.T. NOTES

EMMANUEL BAPTIST

The C.G.I.T. department of the Emmanuel Baptist Church entertained at a Midweek social on Friday evening, the guests of honor being the C.G.I.T. girls and leaders from the First Baptist Church and Douglastown Street Baptist Church. There were about ninety-five girls present. For the occasion the Sunday school room was decorated with gaily colored streamers, black flags, witches and pumpkins. A very delightful evening was spent in games and music, after which supper was served. Dolly Crowther, Ruth Hogan, Vera Brown and Sheila Maxwell were responsible for the games and contests, and Rachael Hull supervised the supper arrangement. The evening was effectively brought to a close with a friendship circle, a thought for the day, the singing of a friendship hymn and taps.

FAIRFIELD UNITED

At the recent meeting the C.G.I.T. group of Fairfield United Church held a debate on the subject, "Resolved that we get more education from newspapers than from radio." The affirmative was supported by Dorothy Fuller, with Freda Greene taking the negative side of the question. The final decisive was given in favor of the affirmative.

GROUP REGISTRATIONS

All Canadian Girls in Training group which are now organized are urged to register as soon as possible. The work of a group cannot be recognized unless the group has first registered at the provincial office, 410 Dominion Bank Building, Vancouver. Registration is also a form of affiliation with the Canadian Girls in Training movement throughout Canada. All groups not already registered are urged to do so immediately.

Summing up the lead directing double convention rules so far, we find (1) that if you and your partner have not bid, a double asks for the lead of the first suit bid by dummy; (2) if you or your partner have bid, even though dummy has shown a suit of his own.

The third rule of this convention is, when you have not bid and your partner has, your double directs partner to open his own suit, even though dummy may have shown a suit of his own.

Opening is the only lead that will defeat the contract.

If West opened a club, declarer could quickly knock out East's ace of diamonds which would assure the contract.

CONTRACT SET BY DOUBLE

GOLF TEAMS IN DEADLOCK

Four Aces' Convention Permits Defensive Player to Direct Lead That Spoils Game

By WM. E. MCKENNEY

This is the second of a series of articles dealing with the lead directing double convention, explained in the new book of the Four Aces' System of Contract Bridge.

In the previous article, I explained that a double by the player not on the lead, when his side has not bid, asks partner to lead the first suit bid by dummy. To-day we deal with the lead directing double when the doubling side has bid.

South has the contract at three notrump. North, the hand that will be done dummy, has bid hearts.

During the course of the bidding East bid spades, and when the contact reached no trump, East doubled. This double is employing the lead directing convention and demands the lead of the Four Aces' System, with East's holding?

Today's Contract Problem

The bidding by North and South is: South, one heart; North, two diamonds; South, three hearts; North, four hearts; South, five hearts; North, six hearts.

Do you know how to employ the lead directing double of the Four Aces' System, with East's holding?

Teams headed by the club president and captain battled to a 14 to 14 deadlock in the annual match played yesterday at the Colwood Golf Club. During the day some keen play was witnessed and a number of matches were halved.

Defeat Y.M.C.A. Squad 16 to 15; Chinese Students in One-sided Victory

With both teams playing a fine defensive game, New Method quintette Saturday evening nosed out the Y.M.C.A. 16 to 15 in a Sunday School Basketball League game played at the Y.M.C.A. gym. The laundry squad led 8 to 3 at half-time.

The second tilt on the evening's program resulted in the Chinese Students' junior five, defeating the Fairfield canes 52 to 26. The match was one-sided all the way. The half-time score stood 30 to 6 in favor of the Chinese. Christ Church Cathedral won by default from Fairfield.

ball on the open side of the field and raced across the line for Calgary's first touchdown. MacKenzie tossed a long forward to Keith Gibson for the convert.

Harrison continued his sensational play in the fourth and only tardy scoring prevented him from scoring touchdowns on two occasions. He brought the ball to the Vancouver one-yard-line where Oran Dover, former Washington State end, plunged over. MacKenzie looped a forward to Harrison for the convert. It was the final score of the match.

HOLLYROOD WINS RACE

Captures $25,000 Pimlico Futurity By Length and Half From Grand Slam

Pimlico, Md., Nov. 4.—Hal Price Headley's two-year-old bay colt, Hollyrood, put on a dust-stirring burst of speed on the home stretch Saturday to outstep Bomar Stable's Grand Slam, the favorite, and win the $25,000 added Pimlico Futurity by a length and a half before a crowd of 15,000.

Grand Slam, first by a head entering the stretch, could not withstand Hollyrood's closing drive and the Headley colt won going away. Grand Slam was second by two lengths with Ned Reigh third by four.

The value of Hollyrood's victory was $45,850. Second money was $3,000, third $2,000 and fourth $1,000. Delphiniun, owned by Brookmeads Stable, was fourth. Hollyrood's time of 1:46 1/4 was slow.

Grand Slam went to the post a 2 to 1 favorite, with Hollyrood a 4 1/2 to 1 shot. Hollyrood paid $11.10 to win and Grand Slam rewarding place backers with $4.10.

The attention of the Canadian football world to-day. The question is what the Varsity team will do and whether the Tigers will be heard from again.

By defeating a great Queen's team 18 to 15 before an almost hysterical crowd of 19,000 or more in Varsity Stadium, Toronto, Saturday, Warren Stevens' Toronto collegians assured themselves of finishing atop the Inter-collegiate standing.

Twice beaten by Toronto Argonauts and on the verge of being eliminated from the Interprovincial race, the Tigers made a smashing last-ditch stand to trounce the previously unbeaten seafarers 21 to 8. A delighted throng of 8,000 saw this reversal of form in Hamilton.

Should Queen's win next Saturday from McGill, the tricolor squad will qualify to play-off with Toronto for the college title. Should they lose, McGill would finish second, but would not have the right to play-off because they were twice beaten by the Blues. Queen's right would be based on a tie they played in Kingston with the leaders.

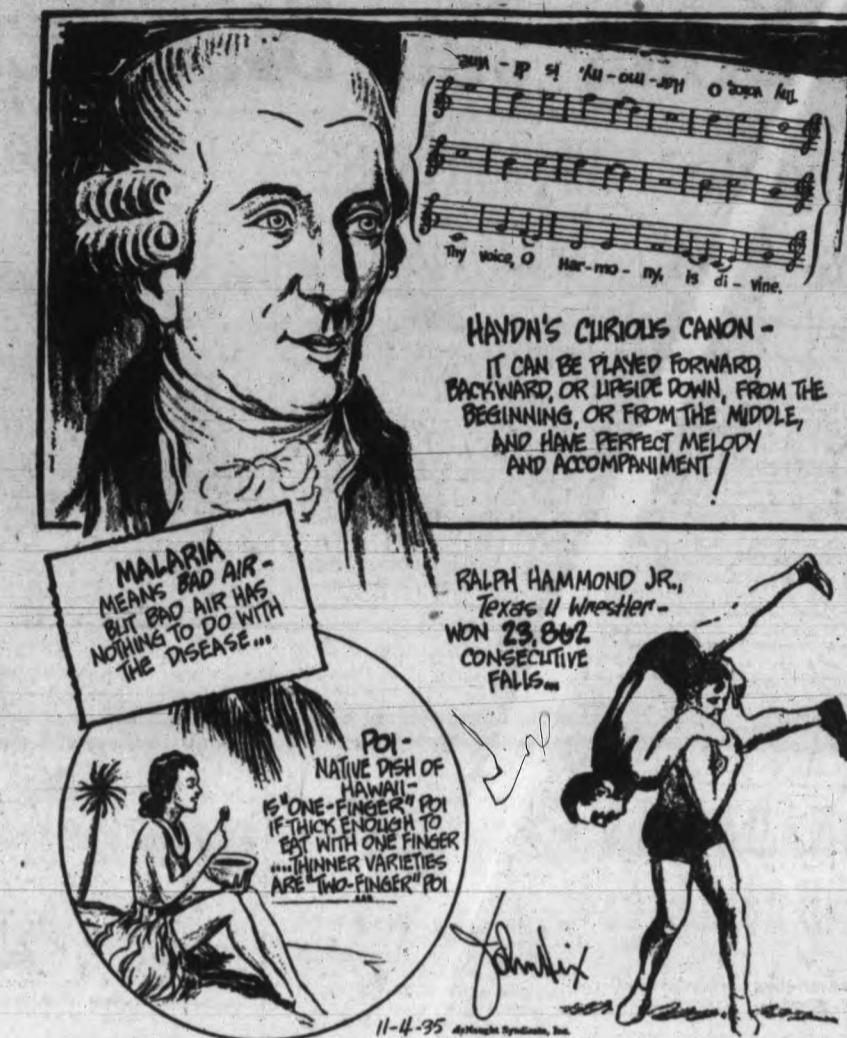

This was the strange play-off system devised by the athletic boards of McGill, Queen's and Western, but which has not been approved by Toronto. It was said to-day the agreement holds a loophole through which Toronto can evade a play-off, merely by declining to play.

It can be played from start to finish as an ordinary piece would be played.

It can be turned upside down and played as well. Or, you can start at the middle, or at the finish and play

Before medical science knew the facts about malaria, it was thought that the disease could be contracted by breathing the damp air of swamps in the tropics. Hence it came to be known as "malaria" from the Italian "mal aria," meaning "bad air." The association of swamp lands and malaria had long been noted, but they did not know that it was malaria-carrying mosquitoes rather than bad air that bore the disease.

Irish Regain Old Football Heights

Notre Dame Battlers Flash Dazzling Aerial Attack to Humble Ohio State; Bears and Huskies Decide Conference Issue Next Saturday

South Bend, Nov. 4.—For the first time in five years the fighting "Irish" of Notre Dame are back in football power, so much so that they can look forward to-day with some confidence to the prospect of an unbeaten season and a possible bid to the Rose Bowl.

No matter what happens during the rest of the season, however, Notre Dame's following is satisfied now that the coaching regime of Elmer "The Silent" Layden, in its second year, has produced the results they have been looking for ever since Knute Rockne died at the height of power.

Saturday's thrilling 18 to 13 victory over mighty Ohio State was the clincher in Notre Dame's comeback under Layden. The Irish came from behind to win with only ten seconds to go.

Between halves Layden simply told his players they had "given away" two touchdowns on intercepted passes and that it was up to them to go out and get them back.

They not only got them back but they made it three, with a passing attack that Ohio State could not check.

BEARS IN GOOD POSITION

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—Whether undisputed leadership remains with the University of California Bears in the Pacific Coast Conference championship race depends against a wide open football scramble will be determined next Saturday when the Bears battle Washington Huskies in the classic of the week.

Definitely established as "the team to beat" for the title as the result of the 14 to 2 victory over California at Los Angeles last Saturday, the Bears will face a formidable opponent in the Washington eleven coached by Jimmy Phelan.

Although beaten by Stanford 6 to 0, Washington may prove a tougher adversary than all U.C.L.A.

What was one out of the Coast's greatest strengths, usually for Conference leadership, will be just another "gimmick" when Stanford meets Southern California in Los Angeles.

Calgary, Nov. 4.—After winning all three games of an exhibition series here against an all-star team from the Northwestern Hockey League, New York Rangers of the National Hockey League were traveling across the prairies en route to Winnipeg to take on Montreal Maroons, Stanley Cup holders, in another exhibition series.

Content to keep pace with the minor leagues, Rangers had to turn on all their power Saturday night to come from behind in the last period and edge out the All-stars 4 to 3.

Bill Cook scored the winning goal on a pass from Ott Heller with two minutes to go.

Winnipeg, Nov. 4.—Russell Blinco's lucky goal in the third period gave Montreal Maroons, Stanley Cup holders, an even break in their two-game exhibition hockey series with Philadelphia Ramblers, Canadian-American League newcomers. Maroons triumphed 2 to 1 in the final game Saturday night after Ramblers had eked out a 3 to 1 victory in the first struggle last Wednesday.

Port Erie, Ont., Nov. 4.—The net-minding of Young Alex Woods, late of Ottawa and former substitute goalie for Montreal Maroons, featured a surprising 1-0 defeat administered to Toronto Maple Leafs here Saturday night by Buffalo Bisons of the International Hockey League.

Buffalo scored after ten minutes and twenty-seven seconds of the first period, and thereafter close checking and the brilliant work of Woods held off the Leafs. Bill Touhey, also late of Ottawa, scored the only goal on a pass from Johnny Newman.

Syracuse, N.Y., Nov. 4.—Dick Irvin's Blues clinched the exhibition hockey series for the Ace Bailey Cup by taking an 8-7 verdict over Ed Powers' Whites in the season's inaugural here yesterday evening. It was the third decision for the Blues in four games, the other contest having ended in a tie. The teams were made up of members of the Toronto Leafs and Syracuse Stars.

GAME CALLED BY REFEREE

Rugby Game Comes to Halt With Navy Leading Garrison 3 to 0 in Second Half

The Army and the Navy had just one more bone of contention over which to worry to-day, following the fracas at the Naval Recreation Grounds on Saturday. The encounter, scheduled as the only senior A rugby fixture on the card, ended seven minutes before time with the Navy leading 3 to 0 when Referee Aubrey Mills, tired of the bickering and near fights that had marred the game, called the struggle off.

His report of the proceedings is expected to be filed at the local rugby union meeting this evening.

In explanation of his action the referee yesterday stated the rival players were constantly bickering and arguing with each other as well as with the referee. The matter came to a head late in the game when one of the Garrison boys tripped a Navy man and another of the sailors raced after the offender with high words and threats.

Mr. Walls expressed the opinion the fixture would be called no contest. Whether or not action would be taken against individual players is not known, but it was understood the tems would be cautioned.

The actual play on Saturday was not particularly bright and ruggedness was apparent from the start.

Five minutes from the opening whistle the Navy scored the only try of the fixture. The ball came clean from the scrum on the Garrison touchline and went to the Sailor's touchline. Garrison opened up a run and passed to Army who gave the ball to Hibbert. Hibbert raced over at the corner to score. Barker's kick for extra points was wide.

The Navy showed a slight edge for the majority of the game, but about ten minutes from time the Garrison came to life and started dangerous rushes with the ball at their feet. The Navy held the Tommies out and tried to buck back to midfield.

It was during this phase of the game that the Garrison players tripped a Navy man and another of the sailors raced over to express his views on the trick. For a while it looked as if the strained feelings of the two squads would flare out into a fight, but the belligerents were separated and Walls called the game.

During the second half Garrison started away on a good cut through, but swerved back into the ruck to go down just before he could get over.

The game was featured by lots of free kicks and by the good play of Barker, McRae and Corbin. Navy forwards, as well as occasional flashes of the other lane is Peggy O'Neill, one of the players developed personally by Ross and one in whom the Boston management has great confidence. Jack Riley, newcomer from Canadiens, works at centre on this line. Cowley was high scorer in the Maritime Hockey League when he played for Halifax Wolverines two seasons ago.

Two other players given a great deal of attention here were Alex Motter, centre, who fitted well into the Bruins' machine when he was called from the Cubs before the last playoffs, and Phil Besler, another farmhand, now about ready for the big time.

SANDS IMPROVES

Improvement shown by Charlie Sands, who came from Toronto last year, augurs well for the young right winger staying in senior company. He gave a good account of himself here in several combinations, including Max Kaminsky, centre, and Jerry Shannon, left wing.

Eddie Shore and Babe Siebert, the old "double S" barricade, can be relied upon to deliver plenty of body shocks when the campaign gets rough. Tiny Thompson, goalie, also has had a long and brilliant record in the N.H.L.

Out of fifteen amateurs who tried out at the training camp two were signed and slated for further seasoning with the Cubs—Harold Johnson, Wilton, N.D., and Leo Lespi, Ningon, Ontario.

SUPERIOR B GAMER

At Work Point, Garrison senior B players showed a decided edge over the Navy second team as they opened their special inter-club series in earnest with a 9 to 0 victory.

S. Pocock opened the scoring for the Garrison, running twenty-five yards for a try following a pass from Polinsky. Fred Pocock took the ball from Anderson in the second half and went over for the next try, while Green rounded out a forward rush by picking the ball up and going over for the last try of the day.

Thomas handled the whistle.

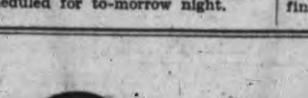

The teams follow:

Garrison — S. J. Pocock, Clark, McFee, Polinsky, Green, Sugden, Mainprize, Johnson, Croft, Hippwood, Anderson, Horn, Bath, Hatch and Fred Pocock.

Navy — Chandler, Christie, Clowes, Booth, Matthews, Fest, Wurzelle, Manfield, Coombs, Paul, Dallin, Conn, Groos, Fraser and Hall.

Owing to the non-arrival of Vincent Lopez, Mexican star, for his main event against Jack Forgeson, Vancouver, Saturday's wrestling card at the Tillicum gym was called off. Lopez missed the regular bout from Seattle and was unable to come by airplane owing to the heavy fog. Other competitors on the card were in the city but promoter Richardson refused to put on the show without his main attraction.

Moose Jaw, Sask., Nov. 4.—Booming along the play-off trail at a terrific clip, Winnipeg Victorias, defending titlists, blanked Moose Jaw Maroons. Saskatchewan champions, 14 to 0 in the western junior rugby semi-final contest here Saturday before a handful of spectators who braved zero weather. By virtue of their triumph, the Manitobans qualified to meet Calgary in the final next Saturday.

WRITERS ARE ENCOURAGED

H. Napier Moore Gets Kick
Out of Efforts on Behalf of Budding Authors

H. Napier Moore, editor of Maclean's Magazine, is visiting this city.

No one has a notion of what trouble it until he becomes the editor of a popular magazine, according to Mr.
Moore. He takes his troubles lightly however—in fact he rather enjoys them.

Mr. Moore arrived in the city over the week-end on one of his periodic trips from Toronto to keep in personal touch with his magazine public and authors.

He is, as always, looking for new material.

There is a demand for good Canadian fiction and special stories, stated
Mr. Moore. He prefers to print the brain children of Canadians, but often goes to the United States to buy stories by "name" authors.

TRAIN BY REWRITING

"The trouble is," he said, "that the first story people think they can bat-out their stuff in a day, while the big timers take a few months in rewriting and revising before submitting their work."

Alan Sullivan's serial story, "Track of Destiny," which appeared in Maclean's Magazine, has been sold to the Gaumont-British Film studios, and Mr. Moore finds a ready reprint market in Europe for other of his magazine's products.

It is not the reprint sale, but the foreign artists' conception of Canada that worries Mr. Moore. In mounted police stories it is not unusual to find on the pages of a foreign publication an R.C.M.P. officer illustrated wearing a top hat.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Art Gillan, motorcyclist, was fined $5 in the City Police Court this morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to stop at a stop sign.

When he pleaded guilty in the City Police Court this morning to a charge of driving to the common danger, William D. McLeish was fined $2.40.

Official orders covering the retirement of J. T. Pollock and Leslie J. Bruce, inspectors of schools in the Department of Education, were approved to-day by the provincial government.

The sum of $377.30 overpaid by the Alberni Pacific Lumber Company in fuel oil tax was ordered refunded by the government to-day. The tax was paid on fuel oil used in stationary logging engines for which no tax is required.

The Sir James Douglas Parent-teacher Association will hold its monthly business meeting to-morrow evening in the school. Owing to the cold weather, however, the party which was planned to follow the business meeting has been postponed.

V. Walker of the Hongkong Transways Company has informed The Times that it was with a prominent citizen of Chicago, not with the head of the Chicago street car system, as erroneously stated in Saturday's Times that he conferred on his trip to the continent.

A delegation of B.C. land surveyors met Hon. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, to-day with the request that all road surveys undertaken by the department should be registered.

Mr. MacPherson stated that where permanent work is being undertaken this is being done and promised consideration of the representations.

Rejection slips which he sends out to budding authors are a source of joy to Mr. Moore, not that he gets a bang out of mailing discouragements to writers, but that neat and colorful appearance of the slips are a credit to any publishing house.

"For beginners we have a black and white motif for our slips," he said. "But for the old-timers we have a very neat and effective blue and red slip, artistic without being gaudy."

A meeting of Ward One Liberal Association will be held in the Liberal headquarters, Broughton Street, to-night at 8 o'clock to discuss the annual general meeting of the Liberal Association which will probably be held on Thursday, November 14, in the Chamber of Commerce, and also to discuss the annual election of officers to be held on November 25.

Four appeared before Judge Lampman to-day and underwent public hearing on their applications for naturalization as Canadian citizens. They were: Annie Charlotte Kiser, Mrs. Feder Hansen, Harold Arentz Kvenild and Frank Bielanski. After hearing the applicants and their sponsors testify the judge sent his recommendations to the Secretary of State at Ottawa for final action.

W. R. Foster, assistant plant pathologist and geneticist of the British Columbia Department of Agriculture, will be the speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Victoria Horticultural Society at the City Hall to-morrow night at 8 o'clock. He will speak to the society on "How to Become a Luther Burbank." This will be illustrated with lantern slides and charts. Anyone interested is cordially invited to this meeting.

The choir of Centennial United Church will hold its annual birthday party in the schoolroom on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Music, competitions and games have been arranged. Those contributing to the entertainment will be Miss Esther Griffiths, soprano; Douglas Park, tenor; Alfred Palmer, bass; Harold Groves and Miss Joy Groves, entertainers; Mrs. Paul Green and Mrs. H. Groves, accompanists; Joe Almond, surprise act, to conclude the evening, refreshments will be served.

Police questioned him concerning the accident after inspecting his car and viewing damage which had apparently resulted from an accident. The accused they said was intoxicated.

Mr. Hughes testified the damage to his car totaled about $30.

The annual Halloween masquerade party of St. Margaret's School was held Saturday evening in the school gym, which was suitably decorated for the occasion. Costume prizes were won as follows: Best couple, Arab sheikhs; Miss Betty Lymans-Walla Walla, and Mary Tweedy; most original, the Emperor's Horse, Betty Millian and Pat Craig; prettiest, Gypsy, Louise Holmes; elimination dance prize, Gladys Van Eck, Shangha, and Laura Bapty; Interhouse peanut hunt, won by Turgot House.

The City Fire Department attended six calls over the week-end, but in no case was damage reported heavy. On Saturday evening engines attended fires at Fembrook and Victor Street and at 1239 Seaview Road. Early Sunday morning a fire at the first floor of the Panama Hotel was extinguished soon after firemen responded. There were also calls to the Biltmore Garage, 1239 Johnson Street, where some oil took fire to Henry Street, near Arnold Avenue, to a pent fire, and to 441 Gorge Road, where an inside blaze did slight damage.

The Victoria Club for the Hard of Hearing at its recent meeting at the home of Mrs. Basil Combe, Verrierde Avenue, confirmed the election of the officers who had been chosen pro tem and also added others, the complete executive now being as follows:

President, Miss Kate E. Gaudie; vice-president, Miss C. Edna Whaley; second vice-president, Mrs. W. H. Routledge; treasurer, C. T. Jones; secretary, H. N. Gahan; recording secretary, Mrs. A. Browne; directors, Mrs. Charles Swayne, Mrs. B. C. Combe, Mrs. J. M. Washington, Rev. Canon H. W. G. Stocken, H. G. Hinson and O. R. Booth. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughters, and bridge and other games were enjoyed before the gathering concluded. The meeting Wednesday evening will be held at the home of Mrs. Hickson, 710, 2631 Douglas Street, at 8 o'clock. Everyone interested in this movement will be given a hearty welcome by the club.

MOVIE PARTY HERE TO SHOOT

Columbia Pictures to Start
Making Film in Few Days;
Willows Building to Be Used

Production of a movie with Victoria as its setting will begin on Thursday or Friday next. A party of five from Central Films, a subsidiary of Columbia Pictures, arrived here this morning from Hollywood and registered at the Dominion Hotel.

Nick Grinde, director of the picture, gave details of the new film and of the plans for making it. He is accompanied by Mrs. William Austin, business manager; William C. Thompson, assistant director, and Jerry Calakin and William Brickway, cameramen.

Members of the technical staff and actors are expected to reach Victoria to-morrow.

Maxine Doyle and David Manners will arrive from Hollywood on Wednesday to play the leading roles, bringing the total number of performers and technicians to eleven.

Production will start on Thursday, and will take about twelve days, according to Mr. Grinde. He was unable to give any estimate of the cost.

"Stop, Look and Listen" is the title of the new show. It will be a light comedy with a boy and girl love story for them.

The first two days of shooting will take place in Vancouver on board a liner, possibly the R.M.S. Empress of Russia.

WORK IN VICTORIA

The remainder of the work will be done in Victoria, divided approximately half-and-half between indoor shots at the Willows and out-of-door scenes in Victoria and the neighborhood.

The out-of-door scenes will include places in the outskirts of the city, country homes and open ground.

The picture is being made for Columbia Pictures by Central Films to comply with the British quota laws, under which a United States company must make one film on British soil for every four on American territory, before importation is permitted into Britain, Mr. Grinde said.

CUTTING IN HOLLYWOOD

Only the bare shooting of the film will take place in Victoria. All cutting, developing and technical processing will be done in Hollywood.

Mr. Grinde, who has never visited Victoria before, was interested in the problems of light here, and believed that his cameramen would find conditions a little puzzling at first. Owing to the higher latitude of this city, the light at noon at this time of the year here is about equivalent to that of 4 o'clock in the afternoon in Hollywood, he said.

Mr. Grinde and Mrs. Austin set out to visit Victoria this morning. They found the weather much warmer than they had expected, and the air very invigorating.

FINED $50 ON DRIVING COUNT

Albert Baker was fined $50 in the City Police Court this morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to return to the scene of an accident which had resulted in property damage.

Police stated they attended an accident on Fairfield Road where a car owned by Aubrey Hughes, 1402 Fairfield Road, had been damaged. They followed marks of a broken rim to Foul Bay and found the accused in a house on Crescent Road.

Police questioned him concerning the accident after inspecting his car and viewing damage which had apparently resulted from an accident. The accused they said was intoxicated.

Mr. Hughes testified the damage to his car totaled about $30.

Sands Mortuary Limited are in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Capt. R. W. McMurray To Address Scots

The Burns Club will meet tomorrow night in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium instead of on November 12, as the visiting debating team from the east will be using the Chamber of Commerce on that occasion.

The speaker to-morrow will be Capt. R. W. McMurray, manager of the B.C. Coast Service, who will take as his subject, "The Evolution of Transportation by Water."

The assisting artists will be Pipe Major Donald Cameron, Gwen Dewar, Evelyn Watson, Jessie Pollock, Mrs. D. McTavish, Frank Tupman and Alex. McGowan. Several new members will be welcomed into the club.

CELONA TERM CUT IN HALF

Vancouver, Nov. 4—Senators of Joe Celona, reputed leader of Vancouver's underworld who appealed from a conviction of living in part on the earnings of prostitution, was reduced by the British Columbia Court of Appeal to-day from twenty-one to eleven years.

Prisoner Charlie Bishop and Ken

Neil Ferguson, whose terms expire this year, have not yet made public their intentions, but it is believed they will be in the lists.

CONTINUED INTEREST

Despite his absence from public office for some years, Mr. Staneland has shown interest in matters related to the school board. He has maintained a steady contact with the school athletics and has been a staunch supporter of physical education among other things.

In his statement to-day he declared his terms on the school board were among the happiest he had spent in public life and hoped to find popular support at the polls to continue in the field from which he was forced by ill health.

Crow Drowned By a Salmon

Fish Leaps From Water at Goldstream and Seizes Venturesome Bird, Dragging it Below Surface

How a bird was seized by a fish at Goldstream and dragged beneath the surface and drowned, was related by Mr. H. Haesloop of Tientsin, China, before sailing with his wife for Shanghai on Saturday morning.

The story is fully corroborated by Fred A. Tubman of the Gray Line, driver of the car which conveyed Mr. and Mrs. Haesloop on a sightseeing tour of scenic points adjacent to the city.

The birds were swooping low, tempted by the fish swimming near the surface and the prospect of an appetizing meal.

But the fish turned the tables on the designing birds. As a crow, more venturesome than the rest, dived to the water's surface, according to Mr. Haesloop and his corroborators, a salmon leaped into the air, grabbed the crow, and dragged it under water, swimming with the stream until the bird was drowned.

Following the army of screeching birds down the stream the tour party came across the dead, crooked crow, which had drifted to the bank.

Help Their Children in MarriageDorothy Dixsays Dowry System Is Necessary in America

ONE OF THE ACUTE problems of the day is that of the young people who want to marry, but cannot do so because they have not enough money with which to set up a home.

All of us know fine young boys and girls who are desperately in love with each other, who are literally lovesick for each other, and whose happiness, whose health and whose morale are being undermined by a long engagement to which even youthful optimism can see no end. They hope against hope that times will improve, that the young man will get a better job, that some miracle will happen that will enable them to marry, and in the meantime they eat their hearts out in bitterness and longing for the natural right to mate that is denied them.

That this condition of affairs is causing many young people, who would prefer to be openly and honorably married, to indulge in liaisons; that it is substituting lovesickness for clean homes; that it is starting many a girl on the downward path and bringing hordes of nameless little children into the world, no one can deny. Nor can anyone deny that it is producing an undesirable crop of cynical bachelors and soured old maids.

But what to do about it, since love isn't really enough to live upon and, married or single, we must eat and have a roof above our heads and clothes to cover us? Doubtless in time the government will set up an alphabetical society that will provide tussoreau, bridal trips and honeymoon flats well stocked with angel's food for newweds, but until that halcyon day arrives it seems to me that it is up to parents to help their children to get married instead of telling them to "wait," which seems so easy to those not in love and so tragic to those in love.

No other one thing is so illogical and incomprehensible, anyway, as the attitude of American fathers and mothers toward their children's marriages. They believe in marriage. They want their children to marry. They look forward to their children's marriages, or do anything to make it possible for them to marry under conditions that will help to make their marriages successes.

American parents are overindulgent to their children so long as they stay at home. They lavish upon them fine clothes and sport cars, but they do not put aside for a girl any dowry that will help her finance her marriage to the worthy young man she loves who is just beginning to climb the ladder and who cannot take upon his back a wife who will be a burden to him.

Many an American girl goes to her husband without a penny in her pocket, her whole assets consist of nothing but a costly trousseau of useless finery that she would gladly trade off for a $10-a-month allowance from Papa.

No many parents consider it any part of their obligation to help their sons through those first trying years of marriage when the young husband is finding out to his dismay what an expensive luxury a wife is, and how short a way the salary that was big enough for one goes when you have to stretch it over two or three more. Thousands upon thousands of divorces would be prevented if only parents felt that when they cultivated crepe de chine tastes in a girl they should supply it and not expect the poor young man she married to do it, and if they would sweeten the matrimonial cup that their sons are beginning to get a distaste for by dropping a little sugar in it.

The argument then is that parents, knowing that their children will some day want to marry, should save up something to finance that, just as they put aside money to send them to college, and that after they are married they should continue to help them if they need it until they are on their feet.

Perhaps the reason that fathers and mothers are so unwilling to make sacrifices, why they balk at going to live in a smaller and less pretentious house, or do without a new car in order that Mary may marry that young Jones she is so crazy about is because they have passed the sentimental age, and love's young dream doesn't seem as important to them as their own comfort.

They don't regard it as vital. But in this they are wrong. It is their children's whole life, their whole well-being that is at stake, and the most important thing in the world to them is that they should marry while they are still young and still capable of a romantic and passionate love.

Furthermore, in financing their children's marriages to the right men and women, parents are making the best investment in the world. For the poor young man who couldn't alone support a wife when he married often not only provides for her in after years but takes care of her parents.

Uncle Wiggily and the Third Bear

By HOWARD DE CLAWES

One night, when Uncle Wiggly was sitting downstairs in his Hollow Stump Bungalow reading a book, he heard a noise. Not a noise that could be heard in the bungalow up to that time. Mrs. Longears, the lady rabbit, was sitting near her bungalow. She was knitting winter mittens for the little rabbit boys and girls.

"Uncle Wiggly, where are you?" said the little rabbit children. "We're in their beds." That is one reason why Uncle Wiggly was so quiet and peaceful in the bungalow.

Not long ago, trying to get in my bed, Uncle Wiggly heard a noise. The noise was the voice of Baby Buntly, the orphan baby.

"Uncle Wiggly! Oh, Uncle Wiggly!"

"What's the matter?" asked the rabbit.

"I'm in your book and I can't get out of the foot of the stairs."

Uncle Wiggly got up and took the book and laid it on the floor of the stairs.

"I'm sorry I'm troubling you, Uncle Wiggly," said Baby Buntly.

"With me, Uncle Wiggly, I am welcome. The only two words of baby talk she was persistent in getting were 'Somebody like a big 'Nononsense' Buntly Go to sleep, you're dreaming.'"

"Buntly, you must have dreamed some dream last night," said Uncle Wiggly.

"I couldn't turn over."

"I can't turn over," said Buntly. "They're somebody in my bed and they won't let me go to sleep."

"Oh, my goodness!" said Mrs. Longears.

Jane, and she dropped a stitch from her work.

"Wiggly, you'd better go up and see what's the matter," said Mrs. Longears.

"Our rabbit boys playing a trick on Buntly."

"I'll fix them!" said the rabbit gently.

He was the kindest rabbit in the world. He was the kindest rabbit in the world.

He couldn't be otherwise with that pink.

Up the stairs he hopped and into Buntly's room. He switched on the light, but when he saw Buntly lying in his bed but the little orphan rabbit herself.

"Buntly, you must have dreamed some dream last night," said Mr. Longears.

"Oh, no, Uncle Wiggly. I wasn't dreaming."

I only put my head on one pillow and you can see the debt on the other pillow when I wake up."

"That's so," said Uncle Wiggly, taking a look.

He went into the room of some rabbits he had never seen before.

"Were any of you playing tricks on Baby Buntly?" he asked.

"No, we're not," said Duster, Muster and Custer.

"Then, when all of a sudden, there was a shrill, screaming sound in the room."

"That's me," said Baby Buntly.

"Then I hear my toenails on the floor."

SLEEPY LITTLE BEAR

Uncle Wiggly opened the door and there he saw a—quite little—shaggy bear. The little bear was sleeping.

"Were you in Buntly's bed?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"I was in the Third Bear," said Uncle Wiggly. "I'll take you to Mr. Stump's house, where you can find your—memories."

You will find it so did your—memories."

The Third Bear was soon humpy and Buntly went to sleep and so did all the other rabbits. And then the sun came up and the chimney smoke so Santa Claus can come down the chimney and tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and Baby Buntly."

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not command."

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1935

Concluding planetary aspects are discerned for to-day, according to astrology, though no favorable date to start any important project, for example, is shown.

Mercury, however, may be expected regarding trade and commerce, but it is well to be most conservative in all financial transactions.

It is read as a favorable time for paying bills, but all borrowing should be avoided, as adverse events are likely to affect financial conditions everywhere.

The argument then is that parents, knowing that their children will some day want to marry, should save up something to finance that, just as they put aside money to send them to college, and that after they are married they should continue to help them if they need it until they are on their feet.

Perhaps the reason that fathers and mothers are so unwilling to make sacrifices, why they balk at going to live in a smaller and less pretentious house, or do without a new car in order that Mary may marry that young Jones she is so crazy about is because they have passed the sentimental age, and love's young dream doesn't seem as important to them as their own comfort.

THREE DIE IN AUTO IN RIVER

Canadian Press

Buckingham, Que., Nov. 4.—Three men were carried to death early yesterday when their automobile plunged into Stravay Creek, thirty miles north of here. They were: Hormidas Guérin, fifty-one; Adelard Morin, fifty, and Matte Faubert, fifty-nine.

Returning from a political meeting at Val des Bois, the men, who lived on adjoining farms, encountered a heavy fog. Tracks on the roadway showed they approached a bridge over the creek on the right hand side of the road but apparently feared they were near the edge and swung to the right.

The car struck a post and plunged into the creek, which is sixteen feet deep at that point, due to backwater from the power dam at High Falls.

During the restoration of the century-old Town House steeple of Dunbar, Scotland, some of the old oak beams have been found in perfect condition.

AORANGI IS REMODELED

Alterations Costing $300,000 Carried Out on Well-known Liner at Sydney

Extensive alterations to the Canadian Australasian Line's motorship Aorangi were carried out during the last two months at Sydney, where the ship tied up for overhaul. Approximately $300,000 was spent on the ship, it was learned here this morning.

Her chief passenger accommodation deck, 600 berths, was remodeled. Fewer, but much more luxurious cabins were built on this deck, with a larger number of bathrooms, full installation of hot and cold running water in all the cabins and other changes.

The public rooms of the liner, including the dining-room, the smoking-room, the music-room and the main lounge were redecorated during the liner's overhaul. New furniture was also put in and other alterations carried out, making the Aorangi look almost like a new ship.

The Aorangi will sail on Thursday of this week for Victoria, calling en route at Auckland, Suva and Honolulu. She is expected to arrive here towards the end of the month.

SWEDISH CREW LOST AT SEA

Stockholm, Nov. 4.—The crew of twenty-one of the Swedish steamer Gerd was lost yesterday in a North Sea collision with the Finnish barque Lingard. The Gerd sank so quickly the crew was unable to launch lifeboats.

Lloyd's register lists the Gerd as a ship of 2,092 gross tonnage, and the Lingard as a sailing barque of 1,039 gross tons.

Siantur in To-day; Kingsley Also Here; Other Ships Due During Week

The Dutch freighter Siantur, Capt. N. Bagus, is to-day at the Ogden Point piers taking 400,000 feet of Vancouver Island lumber for South Africa. She arrived here yesterday morning from Tacoma and will leave to-morrow afternoon for New Westminster.

The S. Hopercap left Ogden Point yesterday evening at 8:30 o'clock and proceeded to sea, en route to Ipswich and other ports in England. She returned here yesterday morning from Port Alberni. During her two calls at Victoria she loaded a total of 500,000 feet of lumber.

To-morrow morning King Brothers, local shipping agents expect the Greek freighter George M. Embriros here to load lumber for the United Kingdom. Thursday morning will see the arrival of the Aldington Court and the Crossington Court and on Friday morning the Ss. Daleby is expected. These three ships will load for the British Isles.

HAS GOOD CARGO

Calling here for the first time in several months, the Kingsley Navigation Company's freighter Kingsley reached the Ogden Point piers early this morning and discharged a good general cargo from California before proceeding to Vancouver.

King Brothers also expect the French motorship Pacific Reliance to port this week from the United Kingdom, via the Panama Canal, Callao ports and Seattle.

Preliminary tests were conducted secretly and the results were not announced, but shore observers said the hydrofoil seemed to rise out of the water even at the moderate speeds at which it was driven with its 650 horsepower engine, turning over relatively slowly.

The tubular outriggers are placed on each side near the bow, with a third attached to the rudder post at the stern.

Meantime, the hydrofoil has been missed and a third in port here having a propeller replaced.

Route to Boston the steamer Artigas limped into St. John's yesterday and Capt. J. Martino reported he had lost a propeller blade five days out of Liverpool.

Meanwhile, it was feared the schooner Clemie Dalton had been lost with all hands. She was unreported since October 21, when she set out from Battle Harbor for Catalina. That section of the Newfoundland coast was harassed by a great storm three days after the Dalton put out.
